

Herter's First Four Months Win Praise ...
Courage Outstanding Trait of Regime ...

As Governor Herter completes his fourth month and one-sixth of his two-year term at the head of the State government, most non-partisan observers offer the opinion that up to now he has done an extremely competent and workmanlike job.

The most violent charges Democratic orators could hurl at him during their recent Jefferson-Jackson dinner was that he fired some Democrats and replaced them with Republicans and that he hadn't proven the charges of corruption he directed at ex-Governor Dever in last fall's campaign.

It was interesting, incidentally, to hear James M. Curley set the tone for the attacks upon Herter because when Curley was Governor he not only fired Republicans in the most turbulent era in the recent history of the Commonwealth, but when they were in positions where he couldn't fire them he bought them out with other jobs in order to run things his way.

July-August Summer Session Again at Underwood School

For the third consecutive year, Newton children will have an opportunity to attend a six-week summer school session to be held at the Underwood School beginning July 14 and continuing through August 20.

This opportunity for Newton residents to gain six weeks of additional schooling for their children comes as a result of the cooperative effort by the Newton School Department and the Boston University Summer School in a joint project concerned with the training of elementary school classroom teachers.

While the primary purpose is to train Liberal Arts graduates for teaching positions, it also affords children who wish to enroll for the summer term an opportunity to gain additional school experience on the grade level they will enter in September. Children eligible to enter the kindergarten, Grades 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 in September are invited to enroll in the program.

The entire cost of the total program is borne by Boston University with the exception of transportation. However, arrangements are made for children to purchase bus tickets at the Underwood School at the rate of 7½ per ride.

Class sessions are held each —SESSION—

Aldermen Turn Down Request For City Employees Pay Raises by 15-3 Vote

Big Free Graphic Cooking School Next Thursday

Women of Newton attending the big NEWTON GRAPHIC Free Cooking school next Thursday afternoon in the auditorium of the Newton Centre Woman's Club are going to find many surprises in store for them. Not only will the lecture-demonstrations conducted by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company give them an opportunity to present their cooking problems to the culinary experts but the ladies will take home with them over $375 in useful and valuable prizes.

Twenty-five progressive Newton merchants have donated prizes while scores of grocery bags, meats, household appliances, two weeks' supply of milk and the food used in the cooking school session will go to lucky coupon holders in the audience. Last but not least will be the grand prize award of a beautiful all-metal, modern dinette set valued at $79.50.

These are but a few of the many features at this year's NEWTON GRAPHIC Cooking School which will get underway promptly at 1:30 o'clock next Thursday afternoon, May 14, in the auditorium of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Admission is FREE and EVERYONE is invited.

Miss Susan Mack, director of the Home Service Department of the Boston Gas Company, will present the lecture-demonstration assisted by Margaret McPherson and Mary Granfield.

These culinary experts are no strangers to Greater Boston women for they talk to some 60,000 women every year at cooking schools, women's clubs and in customers' homes. In the Boston Gas test kitchen, these experts constantly experiment with new recipes and food stuffs and keep in touch with the nation's top food authorities on the latest happenings in the food world.

Mrs. Jeanne Ambuter, the program director and food promotion expert has been planning this school for many months. She is widely known for her food radio shows, and is the author of numerous food booklets.

One of the many interesting and informative features of the cooking school will be a meat cutting demonstration under the direction of Paul Williams of the A&P Food Stores. This specialist will explain government grading and inspection of meats and will show housewives how to identify the better cuts of beef, lamb, ham and pork. Finally he will demonstrate the A&P Super Right cutting techniques and point out the desirability of consumers insisting on meats being properly trimmed. All the meats used in the demonstration will —GRAPHIC COOKING SCHOOL—

Approve Purchasing of Land In Waban for New Play Area

Turning down the recommendations of Mayor Lockwood and 15 department heads, the Board of Aldermen refused to approve general pay raises for almost all city workers Monday night after debating the raises in a closed session. Also discussed in the closed session but later approved, was the purchase of land for a Waban playground, which had been requested two weeks ago by the mayor.

In seeking the increases, Mayor Lockwood had stated the $120 a year for clerical help and the $50 for police was "a minimum effort to cover inequities." Recommendations by department heads for raises had been cut in half, the mayor said.

Alderman Kenneth E. Prior, who voted in favor of the raises, offered a proposal that $50 raises be granted to all the workers. He stated that employees who received no cost-of-living bonuses this year were affected just as much by increased expenses as those who received raises.

The salary hikes are not warranted since there seems to be a lull in inflation at present, Chairman Earle D. Wood of the Finance Committee told the board. He said it is the policy of the board to make salary adjustments in the budget and not at a later date.

The board voted, however, to authorize Alderman Harold B. Buse to consult with the salary —ALDERMEN—

H. E. Bothfeld, Mayor in 1894, Dies at Home

Mayor of Newton in 1894 and president of the Newton Savings Bank for seven years, Henry E. Bothfeld died Monday at the age of 94 at his home in Sherborn.

Up to three weeks ago, he had attended board meetings of the Newton Savings Bank as a trustee and member of the investment committee. Mr. Bothfeld had been active in business and banking circles since his graduation from Newton High School in 1876.

A trustee of the Newton bank since 1903, he served as its president from 1937 to 1944. He was a former vice-president of the International Trust Company and the First National Bank of Boston, vice-president and director of the Lawyers Mortgage Investment Corporation and a trustee of the New England Real Estate Trust.

In 1891 and 1892, he served as a member of the Newton Common Council and was elected mayor in 1894. From 1902 to 1911, he served on the Newton School Committee and in 1909 he was elected representative to the Legislature. Moving to Sherborn in 1910, he served more than 20 years there as town moderator. He also was treasurer of Simmons College for more than 25 years.

Born in New York, he took his first job after graduation with R. H. Stearns Company, then a Boston commission agent. After working for several manufacturing firms in Eastern Massachusetts, he became a manager of trusts and real estate in 1899. He joined the Market Trust company of Brighton in 1913 as vice-president and became president in 1915.

Surviving are two daughters, Haidee and Helen, both of Sherborn, and two sons, Theodore of Cabot, Vt., and Henry S. of Wellesley Hills, 10 grand-children and nine great-grandchildren.

Approve Oak Hill Gas Station As Part of Stores 'Package'

Oak Hill's controversial gasoline service station, part of the store "package" deal in the veteran's housing project, was approved Monday night by the aldermen with a 14-5 vote.

However, permission to construct the station was granted with the provision that all the other stores in the "package" must be constructed at the same time. Bertram Seigel, who is planning to build the business block, reported previously to the aldermen that construction will start as soon as permission was given.

Joseph B. Davis, chairman of the Franchises and Licenses Committee, reported his committee unanimously in favor of the gas station permit.

"The city has tried for four years to get a builder to come into this area," Mr. Davis declared. "The Veterans Housing Board approved the business construction long ago, but no one was willing to come in."

Now, he continued, Mr. Seigel is willing to build there, but the gas station must be part of the package. Mr. Davis explained that low rents will be charged in the other stores since a large rental will come from the station. Only with the low rents, he stated, can Mr. Seigel interest merchants.

Mr. Davis entered in a record a statement from the officers of the Oak Hill Park District Association that 141 families had voted in favor of including the station in the block and 51 against.

Most of the purchasers of the homes in that area felt that the stores were part of the veterans project, Alderman Hirsch Sharf added. He pointed out "there —APPROVE—

Gravel Firm's Expansion Plea Rejected; but to Reconsider

Whether the Riverside Sand and Gravel Company will be permitted to expand its operations on Grove street, Auburndale, remained in doubt after Monday's meeting of the Board of Aldermen despite a 12-8 vote against a zone change requested by the company.

After the firm's request for a change in zoning from single residence to manufacturing was defeated, Alderman Winfield C. Anderson moved for reconsideration of the decision next week. His request was allowed since Mr. Anderson had voted on the majority side.

The company had asked for the zone change to build a repair garage and a "batch" plant in which the ingredients for cement are combined preparatory to loading them in trucks for mixing in transit.

Ernest G. Angevine, chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee, reported the nearby residents had been "led to believe that the Riverside Sand and Gravel Company would leave the area once the land is exhausted."

The residents had hoped "for many years," he continued, "that the sand and gravel in the area would diminish so the company would be forced to leave." He pointed out that the immediate area was mainly residential.

Leo Cannon spoke in favor of the company's petition, claiming that most of the opposition was composed of those objecting to trucking in the vicinity. He wanted the city may lose taxable land because no one would build in that swampy area. In fact, he said, the title may revert to the city in default of taxes if the company leaves.

Supporting Alderman Cannon, Harold B. Buse also said that the main objection comes from trucks passing through Auburndale and Newton Lower Falls. —EXPANSION—

Mrs. Robert R. Linton, of West Newton, who has recently returned from a trip to Berlin, will be the speaker at the combined May Fellowship Day observance of the Council of Church Women, held at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Waban. The subject of her talk will be "Recent Experiences in Berlin—the Little Island in the Big Red Sea", which will give a picture of the other side of the foreign relief work in which Newton women have taken an active part.

Mrs. Linton this winter accompanied her husband, Dr. Linton, who had a speaking engagement at the 279th Station Hospital in the American sector of Berlin. Included in their itinerary was a trip to Vienna, where Dr. Linton lectured and operated at the Allgemeine Krankenhaus. Their visit brought them into contact with the people in Germany who have continued to work, in spite of political unrest, on the Christian projects which receive aid from the church women's organizations in this city.

The Annual Meeting, which will precede the program, will be conducted by Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, president of the Council. Mrs. Hugh L. Robinson, vice president, will give the devotion, using the theme of the May Fellowship Day, "Citizenship—Our Christian Concern." Reports will include those of the Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Ethel Woodberry; the Christian International Woman's Auxiliary of the Church Relations Chairman, Mrs. George Brookhiser; the Subscription Chairman, Miss Ethel Perry; the Membership Chairman, Mrs. Harold T. Tisdale; and the Nominating Chairman, Mrs. Marshall Stone.

Hosts at the tea following the program will be Mrs. George Brookhiser, president of the women from all the Newtons, Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Good Shepherd. Four delegates from each of the 24 member churches will be present, as well as many interested church members. The offering taken at the meeting will be used in the work of the United Church Women of Massachusetts and of the Newton Council of Church Women.

News of the Day

Final touches are being applied in rehearsal to the annual Spring Concert at the Frank Ashley Day Junior High School. The final time and place is 8:00 p.m. this Friday evening in the Day auditorium. This year Spring Concert is composed of three parts. The Drama Group, coached by Mrs. Lorraine Holmes, presents a play, "Nobody Sleeps." The Dance Group, under the direction of Mrs. Annette Emerson, will put on three dance sequences: Country Style, Song of the Bayou, and Manhattan Serenade. Finally the various music groups working with Mr. Vincent Jurglewicz and including the orchestra, band, string quartet, woodwind quartet, and 7th, 8th, and 9th grade glee clubs, will present a varied group of selections. Tickets for Spring Concert are on sale this week.

Nearly fifty boys are now practicing as often as weather permits, including three times during vacation week, for the baseball season now upon us. Games this week are Tuesday, May 5, with Weeks at Weeks, and Friday, May 8, at Watertown West. A number of Day boys have been taking advantage of special track practice at Newton High School every Saturday morning. There is now also the opportunity for Saturday morning baseball at the High School for those boys who are interested.

A very fine 7th Grade rally was held last week followed by election of class officers who will continue throughout next year in Grade 8. Winning candidates were for President, Francis Zolli; Vice-president, Edward Rogan; Treasurer, Albert Minucci; Secretary, Sally Woodworth. Joe Francione and Glenn Shriberg, President and Vice-President of the present 8th grade were of great help to Mrs. Nicholson, grade sponsor, acting as co-chairman of the rally, supervising the election and counting the votes. Janet Bartley and Robert David were also on the Committee which helped run the 7th grade elections.

Robert Rosenblatt, 8th grade trumpet player participated in a concert which featured the music of Leroy Anderson at the Senior High School last week.

Predict Grade School Pupils To 'Bust Out' of Schools by '57

Despite Newton's extensive school construction program, the city will probably need new additions and even "portables" in the next five years, Supt. of Schools Harold B. Gores revealed Friday.

The school system is faced with an increase of more than 2000 pupils in elementary schools over that period, according to projections of elementary school enrollment based on the special census taken by the Police Department in January.

Assistant Supt. of Schools Charles O. Richter reported that the projection shows there will be 10,366 pupils in the elementary grades by September of 1957. The present enrollment in the elementary public schools totals 8210.

Mr. Richter stated the School Department is studying the problem of "bust-outs" caused by the increasing number of young children. "In some instances," he said, "new so-called demountable schoolhouses may be the solution."

The basic elementary school building program will be concluded about the middle of next year when the construction is completed of the Beethoven and Spaulding Schools. These will solve the present problem of overcrowding in Oak Hill and Waban.

Similar crowded conditions at the Franklin and Pierce Schools in West Newton will be overcome by converting the auditoriums in these two schools into classrooms.

Mr. Richter reported that the largest school population increase is expected at the Memorial School in Oak Hill. By the 1957-58 school year, the enrollment is predicted to grow from 432 to 1118.

Predictions on the other increases follow:

Angier, Waban, from 704 to 802 in 1957-58; Burr, Auburndale, 228 to 258; Cabot, Newtonville, 392 to 506; Carr, Newtonville, 313 to 456; Clafin, Newtonville, 209 to 280; Countryside, Oak Hill, 327 to 419; Davis, West Newton, 335 to 386; Emerson, 322 to 336.

Franklin, West Newton, from 576 to 736; Hamilton, Newton Lower Falls, 149 to 221; Hyde, Newton Highlands, 544 to 572; Lincoln-Eliot, Newton, 191 to 264; Horace Mann, Newtonville, 217 to 292; Oak Hill, 267 to 375; Peirce, West Newton, 370 to 495; Stearns, Newton, 150 to 157; Underwood, Newton, 460 to 656; Ward, Newton Centre, 451 to 516; Williams, Auburndale, 399 to 416. Decreases are expected in Bowen, Newton Centre, 417 to 394 in 1957-58; Moon-Rice, Newton Centre from 624 to 595; Murray Road, West Newton, from 143 to 122.

Kick-off of Two Divisions in Y Fund Campaign Next Wed.

The kick-off of Residential Division, Business Division and solicitation in surrounding communities for the Newton YMCA's 75th Anniversary Building Fund Campaign will be held at a buffet supper meeting to be held at the Y building, Church street, Newton, at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 13. Chairman, Majors, Captains and workers in these Divisions have been invited to attend.

At this meeting those present will be given a run-down on the Building Fund Program, and will also be given instructions and information concerning the solicitation in their respective Divisions. The speakers will include General Campaign Wilbur W. Bullen; Newton Young Men's Christian Association President Frederick S. Bacon and Campaign Director H. J. Pettengill. Residential Division Chairman Ralph B. Emery will preside.

One important phase of the Building Fund Program concerns the development of activities for young women and girls at the Y. Although the large number of inquiries received from members of the fair sex indicates a vital interest in the activities of the YMCA, the plant of the Newton Y, at present, can offer only an inadequate program for women and girls. The Newton YMCA needs a new locker room for women, existing facilities being completely inadequate. There is also a pressing need for rest rooms, shower rooms, and an adequate powder room. The Y also needs gymnasium facilities which can be adapted for women's athletic programs, as well as serve for men and boy's work and social functions.

A real woman's program would add considerably to the effectiveness of the Newton YMCA as a force for good in the community. Because of the demand, it is likely that any such program would be largely self-supporting.

Solicitation in the General Campaign, including the Residential Division, Business Division and surrounding communities, will begin on Thursday, May 14. This phase of the 75th Anniversary Building Fund Drive will continue through June 4. The Special Gifts and Advance Gifts Divisions are already conducting their respective solicitations.

Ralph B. Emery of Newton Centre will head the Residential Division. He will have the services of four Assistant Chairmen including William A. Diman, Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., Maynard L. Moody and Alban F. Rosene.

The Village Chairman in the Residential Division include the following: Albert E. Holdridge, Auburndale; John R. Roy, Newton; E. Tyler Parkhurst, Newton Centre; Arthur A. Vernon, Newton Highlands; Leon A. Huston, Newtonville; Archie R. Whitman, Newton Lower Falls; Chester W. Higgins, Newton Upper Falls; Donald M. Hill, Jr., Oak Hill; Albert T. Carpenter, Waban and William H. Cady, West Newton.

St. Mary's Book Talk Series With Mrs. Tims Closing Tuesday, May 12

The Women's Auxiliary of St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Newton Lower Falls on Tuesday, May 12 invites all book lovers to be on hand for a coffee and social hours at 1:15 p.m. followed by the final series of talks in the chapter room of the parish house with Mrs. Margaret Bailey Tims. Mrs. Tims has chosen four titles, all of which promise a pleasant hour of story telling.

The approaching summer months, whether spent in the pleasure spots of the north shore, south shore or somewhere in between, afford one hour of conversation and speculation, part of which will inevitably lead to books. If time hasn't permitted actual reading of the novels and biographies published during the winter months, those who have attended the commentaries by Mrs. Tims will have the advantage of a verbal gambit in this direction. Mrs. Tims' narrations have outlined plots, color and characterizations of some of the season's best reading, and has chosen four new titles for next Tuesday, all of which promise a pleasant hour of story telling.

Tickets for the concluding Book Talk may be obtained from Mrs. Louis J. Vassalotti at BI 4-1171 and provision will be made for children's care during the coffee and review hour.

Political Overtones —

To those attempting to measure non-political Governor Herter's accomplishments since he put his regime into operation early last January, the outstanding characteristic of his short administration has been his courage and the forthright manner in which he has met the most difficult problems.

It took considerable political courage to step in, as Governor Herter did, and halt the milk and gas strikes that threatened the public well-being. The Governor could have set back and let matters take their own course, as has been done upon occasions in the past.

He also could have left the MTA setup unchanged and used the holdover Dever trustees for whipping boys, placing the responsibility on their shoulders for the heavy losses piled up by the road and pointing out that they were not his appointees.

But Governor Herter obviously doesn't do things that way, and he not only moved to try to bring some order out of the growing MTA chaos but in so doing accepted the responsibility for the operation of the transit system by placing his men in charge of it.

It's quite possible, even likely, that it will become necessary in the months immediately ahead to increase the MTA fares, and, if that happens, Herter's critics undoubtedly will attempt to make political capital of it.

The fact, of course, is that if the Dever trustees had complied with the law under which they were running the MTA system, they would have raised fares a third time, for the law provides that the road must pay its own way.

The Dever trustees decided that the law wasn't mandatory and that it wasn't compulsory upon them to comply with it, but they reached that conclusion after an unsuccessful attempt to repeal that provision, and if they really felt they weren't bound by it, one might wonder why they endeavored to wipe it off the statute books.

One recent action, which didn't attract much public attention, demonstrated the refreshing candor and frankness of the Herter regime.

Two men, both Democrats, who had been fired from their jobs in the State tax department, were restored to their positions. The explanation for the action was that a check-up had disclosed that the men had been performing their work properly and should not have been fired in the first place.

The manner in which Governor Herter acted upon charges that a member of the State Board of Registration in Medicine had changed the examination grade of a man seeking the right to practice medicine in Massachusetts, also reflected his decisiveness.

That matter was reported to the Governor by the secretary of the Medical Board. Herter promptly turned it over to Attorney General George Fingold, and things happened swiftly.

Under questioning the Medical Board member is alleged to have admitted that he did change the grade in order to give a passing mark to a man who had failed in a test he had taken to determine his right to practice medicine in Massachusetts and that he had revised the mark after an employee of the board had refused to do so at his request.

A doctor's qualifications to minister to sick and injured people, when their health and even their lives are at stake, are considered pretty important in Massachusetts, and Governor Herter lost no time in making the entire matter public and demanding the resignation of the Medical Board member.

A change in administrations invariably results in an interruption of major undertakings and usually a temporary slowdown. But if one is interested in comparisons, the Herter regime has moved with far greater despatch on Beacon Hill than has the Eisenhower administration in virtually the same period at the White House.

Curtis Will Be Honored Saturday Night

The testimonial banquet to be held by the Disabled American Veterans in honor of Congressman Laurence Curtis at the First Corps Cadet Armory on Saturday night will be quite different from most events of that nature.

It will be about as non-political as a testimonial to a man holding high public office can be, for it will be a gesture of esteem by disabled veterans to a man who headed their organization only a few years ago and who has worked energetically in their behalf.

Democratic Mayor John B. Hynes will share the speaking platform with Republican Governor Christian A. Herter and G. O. P. Senator Leverett Saltonstall, and the likelihood is that there will be as many Democrats as Republicans in the large gathering. The tribute to be paid to Curtis is well deserved, indeed.

He is wealthy enough to be able to enjoy a life of ease and luxury. Yet, for almost a quarter of a century he has devoted himself to public service, and in recent years he has headed such undertakings as the drives to raise funds to combat infantile paralysis and cancer.

When Governor Herter gave up his seat in Congress, Curtis won election to it, and in Washington he has maintained the caliber of service that he performed as a City Councillor, a State legislator and State Treasurer.

He has never been too busy to help others, and he's extremely popular with the members of the D.A.V., as their turnout on Saturday night will indicate.

Herter Encourages Opposition in Council

One of the really surprising aspects of Governor Herter's administration has been the sharp opposition he has encountered from G.O.P. members of the Executive Council.

Even though the Republicans have an 8-1 majority in the Council, the Governor in a number of instances has barely mustered enough votes to obtain the body's confirmation of men he desired to place in key positions in the State government.

Councillor Charles J. Gabriel of Hingham, who succeeded Clayton L. Havey of West Roxbury, has come very close to being a political thorn in Herter's side, despite their allegiance to the same political party.

Unless relations between Herter and Gabriel improve, it would not be at all surprising if Republican leaders made a drive against Gabriel in next year's G.O.P. primary, and a flareup between the Governor and Councillor is almost inevitable.

The latest instance of Herter's inability to obtain united Republican support within the Governor's Council came on his choice of former State Budget Commissioner Charles W. Greenough of Dover to be head of the Metropolitan District Commission.

A motion to postpone confirmation was defeated only by a tie 4-4 vote, and confirmation was approved by a slim 4-3 margin, with Councillor M. Edward Viola, Arlington Republican, merely recording himself as "present."

Gabriel voted both for the postponement of action and against confirmation, although the M.D.C. had been without an active head for a month.

It may come as a surprise to some Republican politicians, but some of the men Governor Herter tried to persuade to take over the M.D.C. chairmanship politely declined the job.

One or two men simply weren't interested in giving up positions in private industry for the dubious privilege of assuming a State post that would carry tremendous pressure and responsibility and required the services of a diplomat as well as a competent executive.

During the discussion in the Governor's Council, Lieutenant Governor Sumner G. Whittier expressed the opinion that the new head of the M.D.C. needed three qualifications: 1. A deep and considerable knowledge of State government and an awareness of the "political jungle" in which he would find himself; 2. An ability to get along with members of the Legislature; 3. An engineering background.

We don't know why anyone able to meet all those tests would want to go to work for the State, but Whittier said he believed Governor Herter had those prerequisites in mind when he scanned the State for someone to run the M.D.C.

But the fact that the M.D.C. chairman does walk into a "political jungle" and does have to possess the tact and diplomacy to get along with legislators caused at least one outstanding engineer to back gingerly away from the job. Most competent engineers haven't had time to become diplomats. They've usually been too busy building bridges and tunnels.

What Governor Herter needed, judging from Whittier's remarks, was a member of the United States diplomatic corps, with an engineering degree, well versed in the intricacies of State government, possessing a knack for getting along with people and, of course, outstanding administrative and executive ability.

If Herter were able to find any such individual, he probably would create the position of deputy Governor for him instead of placing him in charge of the M.D.C.

Councillor Gabriel, of course, did not specify the qualifications outlined by Lieutenant Governor Whittier, and it has been evident for some time that he is seeking a greater voice on patronage in his district.

How the matter will resolve itself remains to be seen, but it could precipitate a lousy battle behind the scenes in the Republican party.

RANDOM CLIPPINGS

Our idea of a really sticky job was that of British firemen who had to shovel huge masses of jam and marmalade out of London jam factory after a conflagration. The heat had burst the stone containers.

Explaining in court what he meant, when he complained to police that one of his neighbors was over-neighboring, Irving Parks, Jr., of Danbury, Conn., testified that Charles Romaine stopped him on a downtown street, invited him into a tavern for a drink and, when he hesitated, tapped him on the head with an iron bar and poked him with a knife. Maybe that'll teach Irving not to hesitate the next time somebody invites him to have a drink.

Dill Pace complained to police in Sweetwater, Texas, that during raids covering a period of a month pranksters had stolen one shoe from each of his 15 pairs.

New Claflin School Building Finally Opens For 220 Pupils

A change as great as that from night to day took place for 220 pupils of the Claflin School in Newtonville last week when they moved from their old classrooms at the corner of Washington park and Walnut streets to a brand-new building on Lowell avenue.

Although the name of the Claflin School remains the same at the Lowell avenue location, no other resemblance exists between the two buildings. The youngsters and their parents agree that the new Claflin "makes going to school a pleasure."

Harry V. Anderson, principal of the new Claflin School, shares a well-merited pride in the school with the others who work there. From roof to basement, the Lowell avenue school compares with the old red brick schoolhouse the same way a modern roadster does with a horse-drawn buggy.

"The designers have done a tremendous job in adapting the school to the site," explains Mr. Anderson. "The natural slope of the land was so great that they did an unusual thing. They placed the auditorium, which needs a slanted floor, under the school to save building up the hill with an expensive foundation. The auditorium is especially unusual since the play area is directly above it."

Despite this arrangement, no sound of enthusiastic games taking place above seeps through to the auditorium. The floor of the play area is completely soundproofed with a concrete base, felt packing and a layer of rock wool. The floor actually "floats" on the soundproofing material and is not connected to the walls.

The building lies in the floor of a long-abandoned quarry, set back from Lowell avenue on a steep rise. The stones remaining in the huge rock wall tower behind the school to form a gaunt, greyish-green background to the rear play area.

Before the school was built, most of the quarry was hidden from those passing by a thick growth of trees on the hillside. Now the trees have been removed from the hill and the slope regraded.

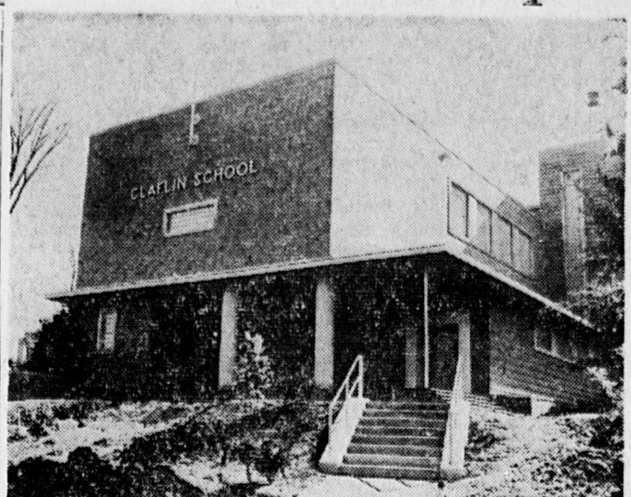

The new two-story building of light yellow brick is in the middle of a cleared area. Two black-top walks curve down toward the street from either sides of the school like the claws of a crab.

"Safety first" was the keynote in planning the new Claflin, since the 220 pupils would be traveling across Lowell avenue, which many drivers regard as a "speedway." The safety angle was especially pressing as the school's enrollment is expected to hit 300 next year under redistricting of school areas.

A committee composed of Principal Anderson, Warren Huston, Frank Simmons and Safety Officer Charles Feeley decided the first step would be to paint a crosswalk on Lowell avenue only opposite the school's left-hand walk.

Parents driving to school were instructed to enter a semi-circular parking area at the right-hand side and leave by the left. Children board the cars at only one point, near the exit to the street, so that traffic never piles up behind a halted car and blocks off Lowell avenue by cars stopping on both sides at once.

The cars exit from the area directly in front of a policeman who directs them to leave safely. A second pickup spot is a circle at the end of Oakcliff road at the rear of the left-hand side of the building where the road ends in a small circle. A driveway extends into the blacktop play area behind the school, but only delivery trucks are allowed to enter.

"The parents have been wonderful," said Mr. Anderson. "Our traffic plan has worked perfectly from the first day."

Mrs. James Kirwan of 233 Lincoln avenue, Newtonville, who is on traffic duty at the lone crosswalk, also described the parents as "most cooperative." Other drivers, though, will have to be educated that the school is now open, she stated.

"Once we teach the cars to slow down," Mrs. Kirwan declared, flagging down a delivery truck speeding toward the children's crosswalk, "everything will be under control."

Aiding Mrs. Kirwan is the school's safety patrol, composed of the older students. Mr. Anderson lauded the patrol members as "leaders of the school in safety."

The greatest change, though, for both the youngsters and the teachers is in the school's nine classrooms.

From the starkly-conventional, outmoded Claflin School, they have come to a school dominated by pleasant colors, brightness and flexibility. No formal row upon row of desks anchored to the floor may be found here. In each room, the chairs and table may be arranged individually every day to suit the aptitudes of the pupils on the subject.

Pastel colors—greens, blues and reds—dominate throughout the building. The walls have been painted directly over building blocks, giving them a pleasantly-informed roughness. The furniture is all new in light wood, from the tiny, scaled-down chairs and tables in the Kindergarten to the full-sized furniture in the principal's office.

The classroom windows look out over Lowell avenue, catching the full rays of the morning sun. Doors with wide windows open off the other side of the rooms to a corridor which runs the length of the school. Rooms are on only one side of the corridor, and large windows look out the other side toward the rear play area.

Stairs, illuminated by overhead lights and two-story translucent glass panels, flank both ends of

Dr. Prentiss L. Pemberton Speaks On Tasks of Y at Annual Meeting

Finding and keeping a true sense of "togetherness" was cited as a prime objective of YMCA work by Dr. Prentiss L. Pemberton, professor of Christian Ethics at Andover Newton Theological School, who addressed the 76th Annual Meeting of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association held Monday, May 4, at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium of the Newton Y.M.C.A. building, 276 Church street, Newton.

Speaking on the subject "Emergent Tasks in the YMCA", Dr. Pemberton stated that in the YMCA's way of working with people of all social, economic, and religious walks of life, there was great strength and hope for the future well being of participants.

"This working together pattern in a true fellowship is a more important contribution to the peace and welfare of the world than we may realize," Dr. Pemberton said. "Man's independence has to make way for his gradual acceptance of his interdependence on his fellow-men."

Dr. Pemberton is a member of the Board of the Newton YMCA and chairman of its Christian Emphasis Committee. A leader as well in national aspects of Association work, Dr. Pemberton is chairman of the Young Adult Committee of the National Council of the YMCA's of the United States.

Departing from the usual custom of having the annual meeting as a part of a dinner program, this year's meeting was held at 8:00 p.m. following a period of fellowship with refreshments served by wives of Board and Staff members, headed by Mrs. Frederick A. Hawkins, Mrs.

Wilfred W. Bullen, and Mrs. Alex R. Miller.

Presiding at the meeting was Frederick A. Hawkins, vice-president of the Association. A financial report was presented by Charles E. Smith, assistant treasurer. Alex R. Miller, General Secretary in giving the program report for 1952 operations, indicated the constant need for new leaders of volunteer groups who can see the potential in each boy and girl with whom he or she works.

Wilbur W. Bullen, general chairman of the Seventy-fifth Anniversary Building Fund Campaign, reported on the Building Fund Campaign, beginning with residential section meeting which is slated for May 13. The report of the president, Frederick Sayford Bacon, which was included in the official printed report which was distributed at the meeting, was read by Eldred M. Peterson, clerk.

Eight members of the Board of Directors were elected for three year terms at the meeting. New members of the Board of Directors are Dr. Herbert A. Dunphy, Ralph B. Emery, and Phillip D. Wilkinson. Re-elected for another three year term were Warren W. Oliver, Dr. Pemberton, Charles H. Myers, Benjamin F. Louis, and Mr. Bullen.

Re-elected for a four year term on the Board of Trustees were, Cyrus Y. Ferris and Elmore I. MacPhie.

Harold T. Pillsbury was re-elected treasurer and Eldred M. Peterson, clerk at the meeting. George R. Strandberg gave the report of the Nominating Committee. Other members of the committee were Fred T. Hackley, Roscoe A. Hayes, Hugh Harwood, and Rev. Hamilton M.

Clifford.

At the organizational meeting of the Board of Directors which followed the annual meeting, Frederick S. Bacon was re-elected president of the Board, as were Frederick A. Hawkins, vice-president, and Charles E. Smith, assistant treasurer. Important additions to the Youth Work Policy of the Newton YMCA presented to the Board by Fred T. Hackley, Youth Work Committee chairman. The additions were accepted.

The Newton YMCA is a member agency of the Newton Community Chest.

Stone Institute Elects Officials

Four new members were elected to the board of directors of the Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People, at 277 Elliot street, Newton Upper Falls, at the 53rd annual meeting held on April 25. They are Mr. and Mrs. Loomis Patrick, 855 Chestnut street, Waban; Howard L. Rich, 269 Franklin street, Newton; and Mrs. M. H. Smith-Petersen, 32 Farlow road, Newton.

The addition of the new members and the re-election of former members brings the number of board directors to 54, according to Franklin K. Hoyt, president.

Among the subjects discussed at the annual meeting was the installation of a fire sprinkler system throughout the buildings of the home. Such a system would prevent the occurrence of the recent fire which destroyed the nursery home in Largo, Florida. Though the initial expense of such a system is in excess of the home's income, the members of the board were in favor of the sprinkler installation.

After the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Leon B. Farley, refreshment chairman and a director, and members of her committee.

AN INTERESTING MEAT CUTTING DEMONSTRATION will be given by Paul Williams of A&P Food Stores as a feature of The Newton Graphic's free cooking school next Thursday afternoon, at the Women's Club.

A&P Demonstration of Meats Feature of Cooking School

An interesting lecture and demonstration on meat selection, cutting and trimming will be given by the A&P Food Stores expert at the free cooking school sponsored by the Newton Graphic at the Newton Centre Women's Club, next Thursday afternoon.

The A&P specialist, Paul Williams will explain government grading and inspection of meats. He will also show housewives how to identify the better cuts of beef, ham, lamb and pork. Finally, he will demonstrate A&P's Super-Right cutting techniques and point out the desirability of consumers insisting on meats being properly trimmed.

A&P's Super-Right meat policies require removal of excess fat and bone before the item is weighed and price marked. The company points out that it's not just the price per pound that counts, but the total cost to the consumer. Only properly trimmed meat items provide real shopping values. The budget-saving method of merchandising has won wide approval of A&P patrons.

At the close of the session, A&P Super-Right meat items will be donated to the cooking school and awarded to persons in the audience.

The local A&P Super Market at Walnut and Beacon streets, incorporates all of the latest merchandising innovations in the retail food business. The store features separate self-service departments and regularly stocks more than 4,000 different items.

What Shall We Eat...

A fluffy fish mousse (say it to rhyme with loose) is to the fish family what meat loaf is to the meat family. It has a delicious blend of flavors; it makes a little fish go a long way; and it's easy to mix.

"Fish saves many a day at our house," says the smart cook. She has a number of good tasting fish dishes. Her family welcomes the varied platters set before them.

Fish mousse with sauce is a favorite, especially in summer when fish is a good buy and the men in the family bring home their prize catch. It's a standby for using already cooked fish, too.

A fish loaf finds a favor-pal in the tasty sauce. The loaf is handsome with bright vegetables. Sliced beets, spiked with a dot of horseradish, are just right.

Here are complete details on how to make the sauce, add fish, and bake the loaf to a golden tone.

FISH MOUSSE WITH DILL SAUCE

2 cups flaked, cooked fish (halibut, tuna, salmon, or whitefish)

3 cups finely cubed, soft bread

1 teaspoon salt

1 tablespoon finely minced onion

1 tablespoon lemon juice

1/4 teaspoon paprika

3 eggs, beaten slightly

Flake fish fine with fork. Cook soft bread cubes with milk, stirring to a smooth paste. Add salt, minced onion, lemon juice and paprika, stirring to blend.

Beat eggs slightly; pour some of the hot mixture into eggs, stirring constantly; add to remaining milk mixture and blend. Add fish. Pour into a well greased loaf pan, place in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven, 325 deg. F. for 45 minutes, or until lightly browned. Serve hot with sauce. Serves 5 to 6. Garnish with lemon wedges, or hard cooked egg slices, or tomato slices. Choose a sauce recipe below.

Simple Tomato Sauce: Heat 1 can of condensed tomato soup. Add chopped pepper, onion, celery which have been browned in butter. A pinch of a favorite herb will go well too.

Shows Collection Of Rocks at Cub Pack Hobby Night

Richard J. Palmaccio, a member of Cub Scout Den 9, exhibited a collection of rocks last week at the Pack 7 Hobby Night held recently at the Davis School, West Newton.

He had many specimens collected over a period of several months. Among his prize pieces were two sections of petrified tree from California, a coral rock from Bermuda, and several sample rocks containing ores from Utah; among them salt, from the world-famous Great Salt Lake, uranium which is used in making the atom bomb, and copper from the world's largest open-pit copper mine at Bingham, Utah.

He also had rocks containing lead, zinc, sulphur, manganese, arsenic, fool's gold, iron and aluminum.

Richard is a fourth grade student at the Murray Road school in Auburndale.

Underwood School Registers Tuesday For Kindergarten

Parents should bring a vaccination certificate and a birth certificate, as well as other medical records available at this time. Children who reach the age of five years on or before January 1, 1954 are eligible for entrance to kindergarten in September.

For the May 12th date, kindergarten registration will be held in the office of the school until the close of the current school year.

President of All Music School Re-elect Mrs. Sylvester McGinn

At the forty-second Annual Meeting of the All Newton Music School held Wednesday evening, April 29, Mrs. Sylvester McGinn was re-elected president of the board of trustees. Other officers elected were Winslow H. Adams and Mrs. Loomis Patrick, vice-presidents, Morris L. Brown, treasurer, and Mrs. L. M. Sibley, clerk. Mrs. Harold Dean Jones was elected chairman of the nominating committee for 1953-1954 and Julian D. Anthony of Newton Centre was elected a trustee for a term of five years.

Before the meeting Music School students gave a short interesting program of music. American tunes were played by a junior trio made up of Nathan Custer, piano, John Merrill, violin and Stephen Custer, cello. Richard Blue of the voice department sang "Passing By" by Purcell and "Duna" by McGill. Three talented students of the piano department presented a group of modern numbers including Perpetual Motion by Poulenc and Dance Negre by Cyril Scott played by Carol Seipione. Bagatelle, No. 10 by Tchaikovsky played by Dorothy Johnson and Prelude No. 1 by George Gershwin played by Robert Katz. All three of these students study with Beulah French Bell, a supervisor of piano study at the Music School.

Following the music, election of officers and trustees, reports were given by Mrs. McGinn the president, Winslow H. Adams for the treasurer, and Mrs. Mabel B. Worth, executive director. Reports on publicity, scholarships and building fund were also given. Mrs. C. B. Jones, chairman of the house committee explained the plans for painting the outside and inside of the Music School building. These were all received with enthusiasm by all present.

Miss Irene Forte, Director of Music, announced two special concerts, one last Monday evening, by an Adult String Group and one next Monday evening, May 11 by members of the faculty. Both events are free and open to the public and all were cordially invited to attend. Announcement was also made of the Annual Spring Concert to be held on Wednesday evening May 27, at the Newton High School, programs and tickets for which will be sent out in the near future.

Mrs. E. Lake Jones, vice-chairman of the Parents' Auxiliary read an interesting report giving a resume of the activities of that enthusiastic and cooperative organization for the past season.

Mrs. McGinn reporting for Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, Chairman of the Building Fund, spoke of the Pop Concert held at Norumbega early in April. She told of the many favorable comments and reported that a substantial sum had been realized which this year would be used for redecorating the studios of the Music School in order to make more attractive surroundings for both teachers and students. Next year it is planned to resume the practice of reducing the mortgage on the building with the concert proceeds which has always been done during former years.

After the meeting a social hour was held in the library where refreshments were served with Mrs. C. B. Jones serving at the punch bowl.

Gives Investigating Account of Explorer Scouting Week-end

The following account of an Explorer Scouting weekend conducted by Explorer Post 4 of Newton Highlands was written by Albert Genaske, Quinobequin District Commissioner. Genaske, together with Post Advisor Francis Tucker and Tour Leader Chauncey Stevens, were accompanied on the trip by Explorer Scouts Henry Genaske, Elliot Tucker, Timothy Kinchla, Kenneth Stevens and William Van Note.

On April 25, shortly after 6 a.m., we left our fair city in two cars in the usual week-end rainstorm. We were bound for the United States Merchant Marine Academy at King's Point, Long Island, where we arrived four and one-half hours later, having left all the bad weather north of the East River's White-stone Bridge.

We were just in time to watch the week-end drill and review of the 750-man regiment. The maneuvers of the drill team were really something to talk about, and were reminiscent of the crack American Legion drill team which appeared on Ed Sullivan's TV show not so long ago.

After being assigned quarters in Fursenuth Barracks, we attended our first of four meals in the Academy's beautiful and spacious mess hall, which can accommodate nearly 1000 at a sitting.

In the afternoon we were conducted around the campus by members of the Academy's Eagle Scout Society, comprised of cadets who are continuing their Scouting career. We visited the nautical science and engineering laboratories, the boat shops and docks and the gymnasium. After supper we spent two hours in the radar and communications laboratories, where we were intrigued with the Sonar-Radar-Radio alarm systems and the Sperry gyrocompass demonstrated for us by Lieutenant F. S. Fraser, who gave up his evening for our benefit. Following a movie in the Academy's theatre camp taps, and all hands were happy to hit the sack.

Sunday morning was rainy. We could have gone sailing, but the boys chose the swim because we had no appropriate wet-weather clothes. After an eight o'clock breakfast, we had an hour's basketball and then an hour's swim in the beautiful glass-topped pool.

The campus is in a beautiful setting, being built around the estate of the late Walter Chrysler. The manion is the Academy's administration building. By eleven o'clock the sun was out, good and hot. After packing we had our last meal, and reluctantly were on our way once more. Everyone, the executive staff and the cadets assigned to us, had put himself out to please us, and we left with a wonderful impression of the Academy.

We decided that it would be a shame to be within 20 miles of the "big city" without visiting it, so we "charted our course" over the Horace Harding Boulevard to the Queen's Midtown Tunnel, ending on 34th Street right in front of the Empire State Building. Not until we got out and locked the car doors did the boys realize that they were actually going to the top of the building. What a thrill when we finally were up on the 102nd floor observation platform looking down on the city on a warm

Canoe Trip Features Week End Outing

A group of Explorers and Boy Scouts from Newton spent the weekend of May 2 and 3 on an explorer canoe trip up the Charles River, using the reservation at Rock Narrows as their overnight camp site.

This year the Explorers invited the First Class Scouts of the Council to be their guests on the trip, initiating a new policy of having the younger Scouts join them in one of their yearly activities.

Although the rain dampened many of the activities planned for the weekend, the Scouts managed to get in some fishing, and those-making the trip were given the opportunity of furthering their canoeing merit badge work under the direction of F. C. Williams, the trip leader.

Other adults taking the trip were J. Clifford French, Chairman of the Explorer Scouting Committee, and John Anrona, Advisor of Explorer Post 21, accompanied by these Scouts: David Villagas of Explorer Post 11; Paul Sanroma and Peter Yesmenes of Explorer Post 21; Robert Gallivan and Agis Kalnajs of Troop 49; Norman Dow, Tenny Peck, Roy Morrison and Fred Knobs of Troop 9.

The drive for economy in government must begin at the grassroots. It must begin with an overwhelming public demand for economy regardless of whose ox is gored — and regardless of selfish interests and special privilege. Then we will get economy — for Washington always mirrors the mood and temper of the people. — East Hartford (Conn.) Gazette.

sunny day. The visibility was fairly good, too.

By 3:30 p.m. we were on our way again, and except for some traffic tie-ups on the East River Drive and the Hutchinson Parkway, the trip home was without further incident. We stopped for supper outside of Hartford, and ran into heavy fog until we reached Massachusetts when the fog turned to rain. We felt right at home with the weather, and arrived in Newton Highlands before we realized it, all delivered to our homes by 9:30 p.m.

Another excellent outing and just one more reason why Explorer Scouting—especially Explorer Post 4—is so popular.

Scout Council To Hear Nat'l BSA President

John M. Schiff, national president of the Boy Scouts of America, will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting and dinner of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, on May 12 at the Normandie Room, Norumbega Park.

The meeting will be attended by the adult Scouters and Red Feather officials of Newton, Wellesley and Weston.

Mr. Schiff, who is a New York investment banker, entered Scouting in 1930. He is the son of the late Mortimer L. Schiff, who became one of the first members of the National Executive Board in 1910, and in whose memory Schiff Scout Reservation, the national training camp at Mendham, N. J., was donated to the Boy Scouts of America.

He has served on the National Executive Board since 1933, and was elected national President in 1952.

Clafin—

the building. Beyond the left-hand stairway but connected to the rest of the school by a double-door corridor, is the kindergarten. Indirect lighting floods from the sound-proofed ceilings into the corridors and classrooms.

On one gloomy day last week, a teacher remarked in surprise, "It's so bright in here we almost don't even need the lights."

The change in classrooms is a great one from the old school, but two features of the new Clafin which give Principal Anderson the most pride are the playroom and the auditorium.

The first-floor playroom has a brightly-varnished floor, and every play period finds rows of tiny black-soled shoes lined outside the door so as not to mar the floor. Four basketball hoops are spaced about the court, and climbing ropes hang from the ceiling.

The lower half of the walls is painted a light green, while the top is a greyish-brown. Even the tumbling pads carry out the pastel theme in a light grey.

Twelve ceiling lights give ample illumination to the playroom, while the "floating" floor affords extra protection for active young feet with its slight spring.

Opening off the rear of the playroom is an emergency corridor which, besides leading outside, also leads to boys' and girls' showers.

"This layout means we can plan an expanding sports program for elementary school pupils," said Mr. Anderson, "especially for the fifth and sixth grades. We may be able also to relieve overcrowding at other gymnasiums, such as the high school's which seems always packed."

Facing into the playroom is a community kitchen. It will not be used during regular school hours, since the children go home for lunch three days a week and on the other two days do not have afternoon sessions. Eventually the kitchen facilities will be made available for Parent-Teacher Association and other community banquets in the playroom.

Principal Anderson's other chief pride is the new auditorium. Although it is in the basement, its exits at the stage and are on ground level due to the sloping terrain.

Mr. Anderson's office contains a mechanical marvel, variations of which are found in every Newton school. It is a console radio-phonograph-telephone combination that can send out two different programs to the classrooms while making a telephone call inside the school at the same time.

The console contains one of the latest AM-FM radios plus a built-in record player. A microphone can be plugged into the system from both the principal's office and the auditorium. The console connects Mr. Anderson's office to 19 telephones and 21 loudspeakers.

There was a telephone system in the old Clafin School, but it was so hard to hear anything on it that the personnel preferred to use bell signals.

Genial George Hillier, who struggled with the heating system at the old school for 11 years, admits there are still some "bugs" to be ironed out of the new system, but it's nothing like it used to be.

Instantaneous hot water is on tap at all faucets, while the hot-air heating is almost automatic. A pair of giant boilers, three times the height of Mr. Hillier, supply the heat virtually unguessed. The exhaust and intake fans, distribution of heat and other mechanical details are all controlled through a switchboard with its own "brain."

Also outspoken in their praise for the new building is the Clafin Parent-Teachers Association. The Association is going to "show off" their new school on Monday, May 18, at 8 p.m., when anyone who is interested may make a tour of the building.

But the greatest enthusiasm for the school comes from the children, who feel most of all the change to the pleasant, comfortable school. No wonder that the teachers find plenty of willing hands to help them after regular school hours, now that it's "fun to go to school."

The wide stage is framed by grey-white wood. Overhead spotlights can be arranged in combinations of reds, blues and whites, and two spotlights mounted halfway down the 303-seat auditorium also light the stage.

During the week, the stage is used for the teaching of both group and individual music. Another use is for plays which are an outgrowth of classrooms projects. When the pupils complete their study of a certain country, they often like to "wrap up" the study with a play depicting the costumes, habits and life of that country. Parents and other grades are invited to view the finished product.

Since the auditorium has its own entrance from the outside, it can be used at night for community affairs. Mr. Anderson believes the auditorium will be in constant demand when its possibilities are discovered by the "outside world."

Instantaneous hot water is on tap at all faucets, while the hot-air heating is almost automatic. A pair of giant boilers, three times the height of Mr. Hillier, supply the heat virtually unguessed. The exhaust and intake fans, distribution of heat and other mechanical details are all controlled through a switchboard with its own "brain."

Also outspoken in their praise for the new building is the Clafin Parent-Teachers Association. The Association is going to "show off" their new school on Monday, May 18, at 8 p.m., when anyone who is interested may make a tour of the building.

But the greatest enthusiasm for the school comes from the children, who feel most of all the change to the pleasant, comfortable school. No wonder that the teachers find plenty of willing hands to help them after regular school hours, now that it's "fun to go to school."

Expansion—

He explained that the city was "obligated" to running an access road into the property to divert traffic from the streets.

Alderman Buse agreed that the land was unusable for anything besides the company's operations, since there was 18 feet of bog.

"The land could very well have been bought for homes," objected Alderman V. Stoddard Bigelow, who said he thought the land could be reclaimed.

Although Jordan Marsh built a warehouse opposite the property, the situation was different as the warehouse was built on railroad property which was zoned for business. Mr. Bigelow said. He termed the warehouse "an accident" and stated that the Board "should not perpetuate this mistake."

Alderman Kenneth E. Prior claimed that routes laid out by the city to the plant were "tremendously expensive" and would involve rearranging the Wooland Golf Course. But Mr. Buse disagreed, saying a less expensive route was under study.

After Mr. Anderson moved for reconsideration, Mr. Buse promised to have a plan of the cheap route prepared in time for the May 18 Alderman's Meeting. Voting in favor of giving the company's petition "leave to withdraw" were Aldermen Anderson, Angevine, Bigelow, Danon, Jackson, Jones, Lovell, Mattson, Scharf, TenBroeck, Wood and Baukman.

committee organized by the department heads and to explore the possibility of arranging a salary survey by Babson Institute.

Voting for the raises were Aldermen Prior, Winfield C. Anderson and John F. Nolan Jr.

The board approved purchasing land in Waban for a playground at the cost of $20,000. Concurrent with this, the Board also set up a "Waban Playground Fund" to accept contributions since the total purchase price will be near $25,000.

The area was purchased several years ago by a trust formed by Waban residents to block the erection of garden apartments on the land. Although the price they paid is reported to be in excess of $25,000, they are willing to sell at that figure if it is made a playground.

Another condition of the aldermen's approval was that the owners would agree to accept the $25,000 before eminent domain proceedings are instituted.

Both the pay raises and the playground questions were considered after the less controversial items on the docket had been disposed of, in line with the aldermen's policy of "not washing dirty laundry" in public.

In one sharp exchange, Alderman Paul S. Rich invoked a "charter objection" to the board voting at this meeting on an appropriation to convert either the Underwood or Carr School auditorium to a gymnasium.

Mr. Rich objected to a vote after a committee report was read in opposition to allowing any money for this since enough was available for the work at the present time.

"The Underwood School has been without an adequate play area since it was built 26 years ago," stated Winfield C. Anderson. He said that the conversion should be accomplished right away at either show, and asked for a poll on which should be done first.

Alderman Rich supported Mr. Anderson's contention that adequate play facilities were missing at the Underwood School. He said refusal to pass the $5140 requested "will sound the death knell for these two projects."

"I have two small children in the Underwood School," Mr. Rich declared, "and they must play in the cellar, not the basement. The little girls wear overalls to schools on gym day because they have to play in that cellar."

Deploping any further delay by upholding the unfavorable report on the conversion funds, Mr. Rich continued, "Let's stop kidding ourselves. If we don't vote the money, there won't be any." He doubted whether any funds were readily available in unexpended accounts, and then presented a charter objection, forestalling a vote until May 18.

Mr. Rich's action also blocked a vote on an $11,050 appropriation for additional classroom space at five schools by building classrooms into portions of the gymnasiums and auditoriums. The schools which would be affected by the conversion are Cabot, Angier, Franklin, Memorial and Underwood.

Alderman V. Stoddard Bigelow listed the project as giving the city seven extra rooms in the five schools. He said it was needed since, despite the great expansion program going on, class populations "still are bursting out all over the city."

The board voted $473.72 for the replacement of clocks in the World War II honor roll at Commonwealth avenue and Walnut street in front of the City Hall. Earle Wood, chairman of the Finance Committee, reported some of the names were warped and falling out of place at present.

Mr. Angevine termed the present state of the honor roll as "disreputable" and declared that new names will be placed on a different type of material which should not warp. He pointed out that a permanent installation was practical now as no other names will be added. The honor roll is restricted to those in World War II.

The cost of a fire in a storage building at the Newton Centre Playground last month, containing Recreation Department equipment, was set at $10,500 by appropriations to demolish the partially-burned building and to replace the destroyed equipment.

The city will recover insurance damages, but the money must go "through channels" and will not be directly applied to the Recreation Department. The board voted $1500 to demolish the building and $9000 to replace the equipment.

During debate over a petition for a change in zoning ordinance at 11 Washington street, Newton, Alderman Anderson termed the change "a sure way to drive the morning from 9 a.m. until noon. Classes are also limited in size to 25 pupils per grade. There are no restrictions for entrance. Pupils attending public, private, and parochial schools are eligible for enrollment. A regular school program is carried on with all subject matter areas given equal attention.

One factor must be kept in mind: this school is not designed to work along traditional summer school procedures, which is to enable youngsters to make up work in order that they might be promoted on trial to an advance grade. Neither is the school organized for the purpose of providing remedial instruction exclusively in the various subject matter areas. Boys and girls work at their level of success and the program is individualized to that extent.

Parents desiring to register their children should contact Allan Acomb, principal, Underwood School, 101 Vernon Street, Newton 58. Upon request for enrollment, the application-forms giving complete details of procedure will be forwarded to parents. Applications will be accepted in the order of their receipt at the Underwood School.

Last year 160 elementary pupils from public, private, and parochial schools found our program interesting and profitable. With the assistance of these children we were able to train new elementary school classroom teachers. We hope that we can again be of service to an equal number of boys and girls and prospective teachers this year, Principal Acomb stated.

old, substantial citizens out of Newton." He termed the approving of petitions such as this "granting variances to a few at the expense of money."

The petition was filed by Andrew Bigows, who sought to subdivide a 72,030 square foot lot into two lots with the ultimate aim, according to Ernest G. Angevine, chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee, of building a house on each lot.

Mr. Anderson said the approval of the petition would force the sale of his property nearby and he could not afford to buy a similar piece of property in the city. He claimed it would drive him from the city and would doubtless drive others also.

Because of his personal interest in the property, Mr. Anderson was given permission to abstain from voting. The petition was defeated by a 10-8 vote.

Considerable debate was also occasioned by another request for a zoning ordinance variance filed by Mrs. Susan T. Capone for her house at 340 Newtonville avenue, Newton. She asked permission to change her nine-room single dwelling into a two-family house.

Alderman Leo Cannon pointed out that much of the property in the vicinity of 140 Newtonville avenue was occupied by two-family houses, although that was against the zoning ordinance.

The opinion was expressed that granting the petition would insure a flood of petitions by persons buying houses with the intention of converting them to double-dwellings in the single family area. The aldermen voted "leave to withdraw," which is the formal action of refusal.

The board overruled a recommendation by the Claims and Rules Committee with respect to land on the north side of Beacon street near Warren road to the Newton Cemetery, and changed the zoning regulations there to a single-family residence.

The petitioners declared in their plea that the builder of eight new homes there had promised them he would continue with single homes, but that now he was considering many duplex homes on the remaining lots.

Mayor Lockwood's request two weeks ago of $1000 for a study of the effect on property of the proposed East-West toll road was given "leave to withdraw" after being held by the Public Works Committee.

Alderman Kenneth E. Prior, chairman of the Public Works Committee, praised the residents of Upland avenue, Newton Highlands, for agreeing to pay an extra assessment so that their street could be paved.

Mr. Prior said it was "the first time we have received such cooperation" in building a street. The residents have agreed to contribute $2500 above the normal assessment limit, he reported.

would be no problem if the gas station were not part of the plans."

In answer to a question, Mr. Davis said the builder had initiated at a hearing before the committee that the whole "package" had to be built or there would be no stores at all.

Kenneth E. Prior questioned whether any order of construction had been specified by the builder. He said it would not suit the intention of the board should the gas station be built first with the other stores following later.

Mr. Davis assured the board that Mr. Seigel's announced intention was to build the stores and station "at one time." On a motion by Ernest G. Angevine, a motion was adopted approving the construction providing it is done as the plans given the aldermen indicate. This was later amended to specify that the construction must be done all at once.

Following the passage of the motion, the license for the gas station was voted by the same 14-5 vote. Voting against the motion and the license were Alderman Winfield C. Anderson, Leo Cannon, Kenneth E. Prior, Arthur S. Seipione and Wendell R. Baukman, president of the board. Alderman Diman was absent from the meeting, and Laurence R. M. Damon was excused, since it was his first meeting.

Weeks Program Is Planned By The Newton-Wellesley Hospital

Hospital Week Observance Starts Monday

A full program of community activities is planned for the week of May 11 through 16 in celebration of National Hospital Week by the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Since this week includes the birthday of Florence Nightingale, founder of the nursing profession, it has been selected to focus public attention on the services rendered to the community by the hospital.

The regular weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club will be held at the hospital on Monday, May 11. Dr. Phillip Bonnet, Director of Boston's Massachusetts Memorial Hospitals will speak, taking for his subject "The Hospital Reports to its Stockholders." Dr. Bonnet is President of the Massachusetts Hospital Association and is a talented and entertaining speaker. Luncheon will be served to Rotary members in the Hospital cafeteria. After Dr. Bonnet's address, conducted tours through the hospital will enable the Rotarians to get a quick picture of the hospital in operation. Twelve hospital aid volunteers will assist in serving the luncheon.

On Tuesday morning at 10:20, the directors of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association will mark Florence Nightingale Day at their regular monthly meeting. A coffee hour at 10:00 will precede the meeting of the directors. Mrs. Charles Cutler and Mrs. T. Stewart Hamilton will serve as hostesses.

On Wednesday afternoon a group of high school students from both Newton and Wellesley High Schools will visit the hospital. A film on nursing as a profession entitled "Keepers of the Lamp" will be shown, after which the girls will be taken on tours of the hospital. Student nurses will serve as guides and will be available to answer questions on nursing. A tea will be served to the visiting group by the ladies of the Hospital Aid.

On Thursday evening at 7:30 there will be a dessert hour for volunteers at Usen Auditorium at the Hospital. Six hostesses from the Junior Hospital Aid under the chairmanship of Mrs. James C. Munro, Junior Aid President will serve. Music will be provided by a trio from the All Newton Music School, consisting of Elizabeth Fitzgerald, pianist, Susan Johnson, cello and Gail Crosby, violin. Dr. Carl E. Trapp, psychiatrist at the hospital will speak. Service awards will be made to volunteers by Mrs. Mabel Hobbs, Director of Volunteers. The meeting is being planned and directed by Mrs. Riley Hampton, chairman of volunteers for the hospital aid. Mrs. Paul T. Babson, President of the Aid will assist.

On Saturday the hospital will welcome all Newton and Wellesley citizens to an Open House.

Family Night To Be Held This Sunday

Family Night will be enjoyed at the Newtonville Methodist Church Sunday evening, May 10, from 5:00 to 8:00 o'clock.

A snack-supper for all the family will start at 5:15, served buffet style, under the direction of Mrs. Marion Scott and an able committee consisting of Mrs. Harold DeWolfe, Mrs. Harry Kinsel, Mrs. Paul Lockwood, and Mrs. George Kent.

This will be followed by a half hour of hymn singing and a short devotional service conducted by our pastor, Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford, with Mrs. Gifford at the piano.

Miss Barbara Hetue will take care of the Nursery and an enjoyable hour for the Primary children is planned under the leadership of Mrs. Lucile Coe and all teachers in the Primary Department.

Promptly at 6:15, the panel of "Youthful Experts" will appear with Mr. Harry Anderson, Prin. of the new Clafin School in Newtonville, as the M. C. The important question of the day that will be discussed by this panel is "Are Parents Necessary?" It will prove exceedingly enlightening to Parents, Grandparents, Uncles, and Aunts.

Closing the evening will be a movie for all members of the family. Dr. Donald M. Maynard of Boston University, Chairman of the Commission on Education will in a few words introduce to us the interesting, entertaining, and thought-provoking movie, "The Family Next Door", which will be shown by Mr. Tracey Heckman, Director of Audio-Visual Aids in the Newtonville Methodist Church.

Prompt closing at 8:00 p.m. is promised so that the small children may be allowed to come to this most interesting "Family Night" program.

Three of four traffic accidents involve passenger cars.

Guided tours of the hospital will be run and a series of exhibits will be set up in Usen Auditorium to explain some of the functions of the hospital not usually presented to the layman. Ladies from the Hospital Aid will serve as guides and the Coffee and Gift Shops will be kept open beyond the usual closing hour so that guests may be served. This will give the community an excellent opportunity to see aspects of the hospital about which little is generally known. The tours will be run in groups of from eight to ten and there will be ample opportunity for questions. "In celebrating hospital week in this manner," said Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton, director of the hospital, "We are striving to bring our hospital home to the community and to make it possible for the members of the communities which we serve to have a first hand picture of what we have to offer. We hope that many will attend our open house and that they will gain from it an appreciation of the extent and scope of our services."

Assessor Fahey To Give Talk Next Thursday

William Powers, President of the Newton Improvement Association, announces that the annual meeting of the Association will be held at the Underwood School Thursday evening, May 14 at eight o'clock.

Reports of retiring officers and committees will be received, and officers and directors for the coming year will be elected.

There will be a brief business session at which several subjects concerning Newton Corner will be brought up for discussion.

The speaker of the evening will be Edward Fahey, a member of the Newton Board of Assessors. His subject will be "The Taxpayer and the Tax Assessor." Mr. Fahey has been a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen for 12 years and since his retirement from that position has served as a member of the Board of Assessors.

This will be an open meeting of the Improvement Association, and the public is invited to attend, regardless of whether they are members of the Association or not. The Association will welcome suggestions from those attending as to matters of interest which they can consider in their future programs.

Rep. Whitmore Now Key Man on Beacon Hill Role as Ways and Means Head Vital One

If able, hard-working Representative Howard Whitmore, Jr., had known that he was to become chairman of the important and powerful House ways and means committee, it's quite possible he would have remained out of the contest for Mayor of Newton and that some other prominent candidate would have been seeking the support of the city's voters in the coming municipal election.

The death of Representative Roy C. Smith of Holbrook, of course, came as a complete shock not only to Whitmore but to all the other House members as well, and when Whitmore was asked to assume the ways and means committee chairmanship, the political die had been cast, and he was committed to run for election as Mayor.

The former Harvard baseball captain is now the second most important member of the House of Representatives, overshadowed only by Speaker Charles Gibbons.

Crystal Lake Tragedy Claims
Life of 17-Yr-Old N.C. Girl

Less than 24 hours after her parents had gaily celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary, a 17-year-old girl, recently moved to Newton, drowned in Crystal Lake late Monday afternoon while trying to answer her younger brother's call for help.

Pauline Vallas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Vallas of 21 Trowbridge street, Newton Centre, either was stricken with a cramp or fainted while trying to reach the side of her 13-year-old brother, James. Her body was recovered later in about 12 feet of water.

Dazed and heartbroken at the tragedy, James made his way to shore alone, returned home to change his clothes, and wandered aimlessly around Newton Centre for four hours. He told his parents that he "felt sad about what happened and just walked around until someone gave me a ride home."

James and Pauline had gone swimming shortly after 5 p.m. from a grassy plot of land near railroad tracks of the Boston and Albany Railroad's Highland Branch bordering on Crystal Lake. It marked the first time they had gone swimming there, since they moved to Newton only two months ago from Cambridge.

As James waded into the water up to his waist, he apparently suffered a slight cramp. When he called for aid, Pauline and several youngsters nearby ran toward him.

Then, as James saw his sister disappear beneath the surface, he cried for help for her. Frederick H. Hovey of 1435 Centre street, who was mowing his lawn nearby, raced to the water and leaped in.

Kenneth Reed of 15 Laurel street, a Newton High School sophomore, had just come out of the water when he heard the cries of James and the other youngsters. At first he thought it was a joke, but he saw it was serious when Mr. Hovey plunged into the water with his clothes on.

Reed ran about 200 feet and dove in, swimming about 20 feet out. "The first time I went down clear to the bottom," he said later, "The water was cold, awfully cold. I spotted her bathing suit, a yellow one, but I had to come up quick. The second time I went down, I grabbed her hand. It was pretty muddy down there, but I managed to get her to the surface."

With the aid of Mr. Hovey, they brought the girl's body ashore and began applying artificial respiration. Police, summoned by Mrs. Hovey, brought a resuscitator in a vain attempt to revive Pauline.

Dr. Francis Maguire of Waban pronounced the girl dead on arrival at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Medical Examiner T. Morton Gallagher said death was due to accidental drowning.

Only the day before the tragedy, Pauline's two other brothers, Charles, 22, and Peter, 16, and their grandmother, Mrs. Panagiotis Georges, had participated in a happy wedding anniversary party at their new house.

Pauline, a senior at Brighton High School, was due to be graduated next month.

Grass Not Greener in Yards Of N'ville Woman's Neighbors

New England's annual headache over brown, parched lawns during the annual mid-summer drought may become a thing of the past thanks to the tenacity of a vivacious, youthful Newtonville grandmother who wouldn't believe her idea was impossible.

Mrs. Alice Cutting of 95 Walker street, wife of a Newton High School English instructor, discovered a coloring agent for grass recently after long experimenting by trial and error in her kitchen. She claims that the coloring, sprayed on a lawn, makes the grass appear fresh and alive.

"I first got the idea for this," she explains, pausing in the midst of helping her husband redecorate their three-story home, "while driving to Maine with a friend. As we drove by a beautiful lawn unmarred by dry patches, my friend remarked it looked as if it had been painted."

The idea of painting grass stuck in Mrs. Cutting's mind, so she began experimenting in the kitchen. Neighbors, friends and relatives all tried to discourage her from beating her head against what they considered a stone wall.

"I started with a plastic measuring cup, an aluminum funnel, a black wax crayon to mark down the ingredients, a jug, a coffee measure, and a lot of ambition," Mrs. Cutting states.

But she continued concocting her "witches' brews" until she finally hit on what she believes is the right formula. She invented the name of "Tint-lon" for her grass paint, and then interested a baker in it. Now she is producing "Tint-lon" on a mass scale and hopes to make an impression on this summer's garden market.

"If you have a purpose, have a drive, and have faith in what you are doing, you generally meet with success," she says in explaining the way she stumbled on to the formula. "Of course," she admits with a twinkle in her brown eyes, "you need some luck, too."

While she was experimenting, she "spoiled" her linoleum, practically turned herself green, and paid regular visits to all my neighbors, spraying their lawns all shades of green. I had green in my hair, green on my nose, green in my hands."

Her first problem was to find a non-toxic coloring, then discover a binder to hold the color on the slippery blades of grass, and finally to keep it all from washing off in the rain. Her back lawn turned various green tints during the experiments, but it was green.

This dinner launched the solicitation program for the Residential Division headed by Ralph B. In his remarks, Chairman Bullen emphasized the profound consideration upon which the Building Fund Program was founded. Postmen To Re-walk Routes
Here To Aid Cerebral Palsied

Next Wednesday, Newton's postmen will re-walk their routes to solicit funds for the aid of the cerebral palsied. Newton residents are urged to give generously when the postman makes his second call that day, for there are over 100 children in Newton and Wellesley who are in need of assistance in overcoming the debilitating handicaps produced by this affliction. There are more than 7,000 children and adults in Massachusetts who are afflicted by cerebral palsy. Hundreds more are born each year to suffer from the effects of this unfortunate condition which is produced by injury to the motor centers of the brain usually before or after birth. The result of this injury often seriously impairs use of hands and arms or may affect speech, sight hearing and perception. And yet 70% of the cerebral palsied are above average in intelligence.

The cerebral palsied are being taught to overcome their handicaps through training and therapy, with the help of a team of specially trained and experienced doctors, therapists, educators and psychologists. The objective of this program is to permit the palsied patient to become rehabilitated to the degree he or she can become independent, functioning members of the community.

A diagnostic and treatment unit and a nursery school and research facility is maintained at the Children's Hospital in Boston. There are recreation centers for the cerebral palsied in Boston, Springfield and Newton. Treatment centers for children are in operation in New Bedford, Quincy, Fall River, Middleboro, Lynn and Boston. A school clinic is held at the Belmont Hospital in Worcester. REV. J. E. CUMMINGS

Services Held For Rev. John E. Cummings

Half a century of Baptist missionary service in Burma, involving five trips to the Orient, followed by two decades of active retirement, ended when 90-year-old Reverend John E. Cummings, D. D., 49 Pelham street, Newton Center, was stricken with a heart attack a month ago while visiting his eldest living son, Stanley W. Cummings, in Granville, Ohio. Dr. Cummings died Saturday, May 9, at the Fannie Deane Home for Missionaries of the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, of which his son is manager. Dr. Cummings had spent the winter months in St. Petersburg and Orlando, Florida, and was making a round of visits to his children and was due to return to Newton shortly when he was taken ill.

Stanley W. Cummings accompanied the body of his father home, arriving Monday.

Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, May 12, at the First Baptist Church, Newton Center. Dr. Everett C. Herrick, president - emeritus of Andover - Newton Theological School, a long-time friend of Mr. Cummings, and the Rev. Russell M. Bishop, pastor of the church, participated in the service. Gerald Frazee, church organist, played before and after the funeral service. Burial was in the Baptist missionary plot in Newton Cemetery.

In 1913 the Rev. John E. Cummings was decorated by the late King George V of England, who cited him for his "twenty-five years of valuable work for education in Hindza" (Burma). He was awarded the Kaiser-I-Hind medal in recognition of this missionary field service.

Born June 20, 1862 at Saco, Maine, son of the late John and Theodore (Tasker) Cummings, Mr. Cummings matriculated at Bowdoin College, then graduated from Colby College, class of 1884. He had served since retirement as secretary-treasurer of his class and was one of the oldest living alumni attending recent annual Colby reunions.

In preparation for his life of missionary service, Mr. Cummings studied further at Newton Theological Seminary, receiving his bachelor degree in divinity in 1887, and later an honorary Doctor of Divinity. He was married the same year to Rowena Webster of Vermont, who accompanied him as a missionary of the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society on his first trip to Upper Burma, where she died in 1893. They had three children: John W. Cummings, deceased; whose widow lives in Pittsfield, Mass.; Stanley W. Cummings, Granville, O.; Mrs. Bess C. Walden, now assistant dietitian, Bates College, Lewiston, Me. Before returning to his missionary field after his first furlough to the United States in 1896, Mr. Cummings, then a widower, was introduced at the Baptist Foreign Missionary Society headquarters to Miss Dora C. Roberts, who had just graduated from Vassar College.

Born in Burlingame, Kansas, the daughter of William Henry Roberts and (Rogers) Roberts, the first Baptist missionaries to the Kachins who had first gone to Upper Burma in 1878, Miss Roberts was returning to Burma to keep house for her father following the death of her mother. Mr. Cummings and Miss Roberts were married in Bhamo, Burma, in 1897. Mrs. Cummings served with her husband in the mission fields, with furloughs home to the United States in 1906, 1914 and 1923, until their retirement in 1932, when they returned to make their permanent home in Newton Center, at first near the Baptist Missionary Home, since transferred to Granville, O., then at the house they bought on Pelham street. They had a summer cottage at York Beach, Maine, in 1945.

The nine children by this second marriage are: Robert Cummings, World War I veteran who died in 1951; Mrs. Victor M. Metherston (Ruth Cummings), formerly of Newton Highlands, assistant in courses at Harvard Business School; Rev. Roger Cummings, director of the English Language Institute in the U. S. State Department's Point Four program, at Jogjakarta, Indonesia; Mrs. Melvin H. Siegel (Caroline Cummings), Minneapolis, Minnesota; William Henry Cummings (Bill Cummings mentioned in "Burma Surgeon"), now regional director for Southeast Asia for the Food and Agricultural Organization affiliated with United Nations, with headquarters at Bangkok, Siam; Rev. Richard Cummings, Nyack, N. Y., an officer of the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society; Mrs. Russell J. McKeon (Dora Cummings), Cambridge, Mass.; and twin daughters, Mrs. David L. Gordon (Clara Cummings).

Here's how to prove Pontiac value:
First, get behind the wheel and drive it—see how Pontiac puts you out in front in traffic, skims you along the open road with surprising economy; how its big, husky high-compression engine provides power to spare.

Next, take a good long look at its distinctive styling and its luxurious color-matched interiors. Consider, also, Pontiac's reputation for unsurpassed dependability, long-range economy and high resale value.

Finally, compare its low price—so low, in fact, that if you can afford any new car you can afford a Pontiac. Why not come in and see for yourself?

Central Put $140,000,000 Into 1952 Rail Progress

1. THE NEW IN NEW YORK CENTRAL includes the largest investment by any road in streamlined passenger cars. Plus 60,000 new freight cars. Plus 2 1/2 million new diesel horsepower. Plus vast right-of-way improvements. During 1952, Central's payment on progress totaled $140 MILLION!

3. REVENUES AREN'T EARNINGS! Of $807 million revenue, $492.6 millions went for payroll and benefits. Fuel, supplies and materials took $189 million. Interests, rents, etc., $50.5 million. Depreciation, $38.7 million. Taxes, $36.5 million. That left $24.7 million for earnings—a net return of less than 2 1/2%.

2. WHERE DID THE MONEY COME FROM? Freight passengers added $124 million. Mail, express and other sources brought New York Central's 1952 revenue up to $807 million. It sounds like plenty to meet last year's price tag on progress. BUT...

4. MORE EARNINGS NEEDED! That's why Central is studying money-losing trains that ought to be dropped. That's why Central is making a record drive for new, paying traffic. Your Railroad must earn more to go on investing in finer transportation for you. That is the whole CENTRAL IDEAL!

Political Overtones -

His committee passes on every dollar the State spends. He is the man who says "No," when a popular but unsound expenditure is suggested, and he is working in close cooperation with Governor Herter in an attempt to make possible a tax reduction next year.

It now appears about as certain as anything can be in politics that Whitmore will be elected the next mayor of Newton. That would mean that at the start of the 1954 legislative session it would be necessary for him to resign from the House and that a special election would be held to fill his place.

There is no question but that his departure from the Beacon Hill scene will be a real loss to Governor Herter and his administration, for Whitmore has been extremely effective in fighting the Republican battle in the State Legislature.

A remarkable aspect to the recent testimonial dinner tendered Congressman Laurence Curtis was the number of Democrats who attended the event held by the Disabled American Veterans in honor of the prominent Republican office-holder.

Boston's Mayor John B. Hynes was the only elected Democratic official to join in the tributes to Curtis, but D. A. V. officers in charge of the event estimated that at least half of the guests attending it were Democrats.

It was an unusual gesture to a man who has been active in G. O. P. affairs for a quarter of a century but who has won many Democratic friends as he travelled the political paths.

A holdup man armed with a pistol walked into a Dover florist shop, looked inside the cash register, muttered "this isn't enough," and walked out. Maybe the florist should have a little more cash on hand next time.

Here's one way to get work, if you're over 60. "Mad Major" Christopher Draper, 61-year-old aviator who piloted a small plane under 15 London bridges last week, was immediately offered four jobs as a result of the flight.

Philadelphia firemen reported that a fire in the home of Mrs. Hattie Curry was started by a bird which tried to use a lighted cigarette to build its nest. We're a bit curious as to whether the bird burned its beak.

A court in Brisbane, Australia, ruled that William Marsen was justified in beating his nine-year-old son with a stick after the youngster announced his father's return home from work by shouting: "Here Comes Old Baldy."

When Ernest Johnson, a meteorologist at the U. S. weather bureau office in Albany, N. Y., was late in arriving for a speaking engagement at Ithaca, N. Y., he apologized with the explanation that his plane had been delayed by unexpected weather.

Newton Tribute Foundation Conducting 6th Annual Garden Tours, May 16, 17, 18

Seven Gardens will be shown in the sixth Annual Garden Tour sponsored by the Newton Tribute Foundation beginning this Saturday, May 16, Sunday and Monday.

The garden of Dr. and Mrs. Allen G. Braley, 1308 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, is on a heavily shaded hillside with two terraces for outdoor living. Here there will be a Plant Sale under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ralph Keyes and Mrs. Douglass B. Francis.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Lawton of 35 Roundwood road, Newton Upper Falls, have a garden suggestive of a little piece of unspoiled woodland where the great number of native wildflowers and ferns seem much at home in its dappled shade.

Dr. and Mrs. Francis C. Newton, 156 Arnold road, Newton Centre, have a very beautiful and spacious lawn surrounded by maples, elms, dogwood and lilacs. Near the house is a rose garden, in the center a lovely lily pool, and at the rear a well planned rock garden with a waterfall. Other charming features are a perennial garden, a cutting garden, and in the corner a play house and play area for children, shaded by apple trees.

East blends gracefully with West in this interesting Chinese Garden at the home of Dr. and Mrs. George Van Gorder, 70 Burdean road, Oak Hill, Newton Centre. The terrace is enclosed at either end by high white stucco walls, each with its moon gate, and beyond one circular opening stretches a vista of green lawn, flowers and woods. The other moon gate is closed and forms a niche for a figurine of the Chinese Goddess of Mercy above the lotus pool. Mrs. Van Gorder is also opening her Garden Room and will tell of each treasure there that the family brought with them from China.

There is a spacious terraced garden with a pleasing vista, banks of azaleas and rhododendrons, a pool and attractive border plantings at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Sharaf, 50 Beacon street, Chestnut Hill.

A still different type of garden can be seen at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Feinberg, 215 Franklin street, Newton, where much thought and careful planning have been given the artistic plantings that surround the house built only five years ago.

The front lawn and surrounding plants are very trim and well tailored at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Brine, Jr., 16 Pickwick road, West Newton, with the interesting use of the evergreen English Ivy in a panel on either side of the front walk. In the rear is a long sweep of green grass outlined by a screen of trees and a border of perennials to give an impression of both spaciousness and privacy. To one side on a lower level is a kitchen garden, so well kept that it too is a decorative feature.

The Tour will be from 1 to 5:30 each day and tickets may be purchased at any one of the gardens or from the Newton Tribute Foundation, 25 Chestnut street, West Newton.

Campbell, 40 Sylvan avenue, West Newton.

Mrs. Richard H. Lee, president of the club, will preside at the business meeting, at which the members will elect officers and discuss plans for the next year, and hear a report on the recent benefit tour by its scholarship chairman, Mrs. Elliot H. Rogers.

Aldermen Reconsider Votes; Water Rates May Rise in '54

Local consumers of water — and who isn't — may find their water bills increasing the first of the year if the legislature approves a bill now under consideration.

The bill calls for doubling the present rate of $40 per million gallons now charged by the Metropolitan District Commission to cities connected with its water system. At the present time, Newton is buying only a portion of its water from the MDC, but the city's entire supply is expected to come from the MDC before January.

However, doubling the cost to the city doesn't mean that the water rates will double for the consumer. Only a fractional part of the bill represents the cost of the water, since wages, maintenance, equipment and other items must also be paid for by the consumer.

Just how much this will amount to isn't clear just now. In another of the 24 cities and towns in the MDC water system, though, the increase was estimated to be around 15 or 20 per cent. Newton residents at present pay 18 cents for every 750 gallons.

An unusual sidelight on Monday night's meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be the reconsideration of two votes taken on May 4.

Winfield C. Anderson, alderman at large from Ward 7, has asked the board to reconsider its vote denying a petition by the Riverside Sand and Gravel Company to be allowed to change land at 300 Grove street, Auburndale, from a single residence zone to a manufacturing area.

This petition has aroused a great storm of controversy among Auburndale and Newton Lower Falls residents since it was filed some weeks ago. The present location of the company is on swampy land near houses. The firm has been operating there for the past 30 years, but the zone has never been officially changed. The aldermen have given the company a variance every year to continue its work.

Company officials now claim that the gravel supply has just about been exhausted, so that they must turn to some other means of continuing in business. With the zone change, the firm would erect a "batch" plant. This is a plant for combining the ingredients of cement preparatory for loading the materials in trucks for mixing in transit.

In debating the petition, it was reported that the residents had hoped the natural supplies would diminish so the company would be forced to leave. Among the complaints listed were annoyance from the noise and dust from the mixing operation and the passage of heavy trucks through Auburndale and Lower Falls.

However, other aldermen spoke in favor of the company's petition, pointing out that a good deal of taxable land would be lost to the city should the firm be forced to move. Leo Cannon, who with Harold B. Buse was most outspoken in favor of permitting the zoning change, said the title to the property may revert to the city in default of taxes if the company moves out.

The petition's chances of success seemed to hinge on whether or not a road could be put through to the sand and gravel plant at moderate cost to divert the truck traffic. Mr. Buse agreed that past plans for the road were too expensive, but asked a delay in the vote so that another route could be drawn up. He said he felt sure the alternate one would not cost much.

The vote was taken despite Mr. Buse's objection, and the petition was given "leave to withdraw" by 12-8. Alderman Anderson, after long thought, voted against the petition, but then asked for reconsideration.

Reconsideration is a tricky parliamentary maneuver, since whoever asks for the reconsideration must have voted on the winning side. Undoubtedly Mr. Anderson had this in mind when he cast his vote against the company.

The second request for reconsideration, filed by Mr. Angevine, is on a zone change voted by the board May 4 despite recommendations by the Claims and Rules Committee, of which Mr. Angevine is chairman.

Land on the north side of Beacon street near Warren road to the edge of the Newton Cemetery was made a single-residence area. The change had been asked by families which recently moved into eight new homes on Beacon street. They claimed the builder had promised them he would construct only single homes on the remaining vacant lots, but that he now was planning to build two-family dwellings.

The builder's argument, according to the alderman, was that he lost money on the single homes and could only make a profit by building the other houses.

The board disregarded the recommendation that the petition be given "leave to withdraw" and passed a zone change to a single residence area. Again, Mr. Angevine was on the side of the majority, but with the idea of asking a reconsideration.

Letters to the Editor

WHY PRIORITY?

Editor, Newton Graphic:
Attached hereto is a copy of a letter sent to William F. Callahan, Chairman of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority.

Morton B. Braun
217 Country Club road,
Newton Centre, Mass.

William F. Callahan, Chairman
Mass. Turnpike Authority Little Building
Boston, Massachusetts

Dear Sir:
As one whose profession is city planning and, secondly, as a resident of Newton Centre, I cannot understand what priority and what compelling need places the location of a toll highway above all other planning considerations.

I recognize that whether such a road is sited here or there is essentially a matter of dollars and investments. But I cannot sympathize with the position that highway planning, free or toll, is paramount to other aspects of city and regional planning. Highways are only one aspect of planning, local metropolitan or state, and the greatest good for the greatest number will be served only when all considerations are viewed equally.

Certainly a highway which destroys playgrounds, which adversely affects other recreation facilities, which wipes out homes and proposed school sites, which cuts off schools as the focus of well-planned neighborhoods, which will necessitate drastic changes in local street patterns and zoning, and which generally ignores everything but the bare requirements of the highway alone cannot be considered good planning, even though it may be creditable as pure engineering or as a safe investment.

That the Authority under the law has such a broad grant of powers, without the necessity to consult with local and state planning agencies, is regrettable. That there do not exist a really strong state planning agency and a mechanism for comprehensive metropolitan planning is doubly unfortunate.

One can only trust, therefore, that planning-wise the Authority will consult with other agencies, state and local, and will exercise a balanced judgment as between the location of the road on the one hand, and on the other, the requirements of sound comprehensive planning, the effects of neighborhood destruction, and the other local planning problems which will be created.

Morton B. Braun

NEEDHAM'S POSITION

Editor, Newton Graphic:
The Needham Taxpayers Association is firmly opposed to the East-West Toll Road, as presently proposed. The injury to Needham lies not only in the loss of $500,000 in assessed property values, but also in a great reduction in value of nearby property, which will not be compensated for, and in the elimination of potential industrial sites in the Town. Aside from the damage to Needham, we feel that the legislation was over-hastily enacted without adequate study of the need for such a road in the Boston suburbs and, that, as Senator Cutler points out, it gave the Turnpike Authority a very unwelcome concentration of power without any power reserved by the Legislature to review the final decision.

Such arbitrary legislation should either be repealed or amended at once by the Legislature for without such a repeal or amendment, the public can take no effective action. The real job before us is not to deflect a bad toll road from the southern to the northern route, or vice versa, but rather to secure a complete legislative re-examination of the entire toll road project, eastward from Worcester, as well as a re-activation of legislative authority and responsibility in the matter.

The Association is deeply concerned with the conflicting statements made by various state officials, one indicating that the northern route will be chosen and another indicating that the southern route will be used. This attempt to lull into a sense of security the communities in the path of each of the alternative routes is dangerous and must be combated with vigor.

By itself, Needham has little chance of making its voice heard. In concert with the other communities having the same interest, it has an excellent opportunity of accomplishing its objective. The communities penalized by both the northern and southern routes are all interested in blocking the possibility of the new highway taking its toll of their real estate values. Acting together, these communities constitute a tremendous force. We propose that each of these communities should select one member to serve on a committee to devise ways and means for initiating effective opposition, preferably by repealing or amending the Act creating the Turnpike Authority.

As the first step in this direction, we urge the Needham Selectmen to communicate, at once, with representatives of all the other communities interested in providing active and energetic community representation for this Town.

OWEN WEBB
Needham Heights

IS MISINFORMED

Editor, Newton Graphic:
Relative to a letter appearing in your newspaper some days ago which was signed by J. M. Whittles of the Newtonville Associates, —

First, let me point out that we are unable to identify any organization known as the Newtonville Associates and have been unable to check the name of J. M. Whittles as a citizen of Newton.

Mr. Whittles, of course, is misinformed when he states that city employees received $600 one year ago. This is not the truth! — and we would advise Mr. Whittles or the Newtonville Associates to check into the official records and not to mislead the intelligent electorate of Newton by such faults and misleading statements.

I am sure if he will check the prevailing rate of wages on hourly basis with industrial firms in the area that he will find that the employees of Newton do not receive as much as those employed in similar capacity in private industry. Mr. Whittles also refers to a very fine pension plan but he should be advised that the employees pay for such a pension plan at the rate of five per cent of their weekly salary as compared to a contribution of those in private industry of one and a half per cent of their weekly wage, not to exceed $54 in any year which is what private industrial employees pay to the Social Security plan.

It should be remembered also that private industrial employees and their families are protected for this one and a half per cent contribution by the terms of Survivor's Insurance which provides the widow and children of a breadwinner with an income after death, which is a great deal more liberal than the similar provisions granted under the five per cent pension plan. The employees in private industry are also the beneficiaries of unemployment compensation which public employees do not participate in.

Let me assure Mr. Whittles and his Newtonville Associates that those employed in the public payroll in the city of Newton are, at least, equally efficient as any group of private industrial employees any place in the area and are conscientious and have a respect for the taxpayer and citizen and are glad to do their job. It is most unfortunate, indeed, that some citizens fail to appreciate the scope of work and duties performed by those in the public service and think only of the expense involved for providing such service.

I can honestly say, without fear of contradiction, that insofar as the municipal tax rate is concerned, the citizens of Newton are receiving more for their dollar expended in taxes than any other dollar spent by them for commodities, services or any necessities of life through the able leadership of Mayor Lockwood and the Board of Aldermen.

The taxpayer of Newton is receiving a bargain in exchange for taxes paid to the city and we invite Mr. Whittles and the Newtonville Associates to examine a little more closely the extent of services provided and the tax rates and assessments of neighboring communities as compared to Newton.

Municipal Highlights

The Newton City Hall Associates have selected Tuesday, June 23, for their annual outing. Although the date has been set, the orchestra and site has not been definitely arranged. While the employees are on their outing, a skeleton crew will keep the City Hall open for business.

Meeting last week in Columbus Hall, Newton City Employees Union 175 elected Edward MacPhee as president for the 1953-54 year. Elected vice president was James DeMichael; recording secretary, Reece Boynton; treasurer, Charles Fagan; and sentinel, Patrick McGary.

The new president appointed Philip Scordemalia, Angelo Racine and Joseph Tambosio as members of the finance committee.
Admitted to membership were Ralph Cooney, Donald McCullough, Walter Hackett, Joseph Cavallo, Thomas Scandele and Wilbur Gingsas.

Local 175 will hold its next meeting on Thursday, June 4.
Willard S. Pratt, public works commissioner; and Mark F. Croker, water commissioner, are in Grand Rapids, Mich., for the annual meeting of the Water Works Association. The week-long convention ends tomorrow (Friday).

Eileen T. Coffey of the city clerk's office recently became engaged to Louis Mastromattei, who is currently taking his basic Army training at Ft. Dix, N. J.
She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Coffey of 26 Dale street, Newtonville, and Pvt. Mastromattei is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gennaro Mastromattei of 188 Adams street, Newton. No date has been set for the wedding.

The City Hall Engineers got their softball season off to a bad start Monday night, losing 14-7 to Sylvania despite outitting Sylvania 15 to 7. Seven walks and two hit batsmen proved the undoing of the Engineers. High spot of the City Hall attack was a two-run homer stroked by Redmond Goguen. Better luck next time!

Edmund J. Poutas, superintendent of welfare, has been elected a member of the board of directors of the Newtonville Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Also on the sports front, Ed Foley, a member of the Newton police department, is managing Upper Falls in the Twilight League's American Division. A Twi Leaguer since he was 14, Ed will play center field as well as manage.

Attention all city workers! This is your column. It will be devoted to news about Newton's municipal employees and their families, and to any other items about Newton which ordinarily do not warrant a separate news story.

Picture of a Man Relaxing!

The next time you find yourself alongside a new Cadillac at the traffic light—take a good look at the gentleman behind the wheel.

The odds are overwhelming that you'll see a man relaxed and at ease.

For serenity is part and parcel of the great experience of driving a 1953 Cadillac. In fact, owners frequently take to the highway just for the relaxation the car provides.

And well they might. For here, beyond all question, is one of the surest therapeutics for the tension of work-a-day life!

Just sitting there in the driver's seat is enough to put a man at ease. The cushions are deep and luxurious and restful... the wheel is perfectly positioned for the driver's hands... and beauty and comfort and spaciousness are in every direction.

And driving a Cadillac is as restful as sitting in a Cadillac.

That great, powerful engine responds as if by magic... carrying the car in and out of traffic almost as quickly and as easily as the driver makes his decision to do so. Steering is feather-light and effortless... and braking calls only for the slightest pressure from the daintiest foot.

Of course, if the driver has chosen a Cadillac Air Conditioner* for his car, he refreshes as he relaxes. With a simple adjustment of a single lever, he can lower the car's interior to any normal temperature he desires—even in the warmest weather.

Yes, it's little wonder that the man in the Cadillac always looks so comfortable and happy and relaxed. In plain fact—he is!

Wouldn't it be wonderful to find such satisfaction in your own motoring? Of course it would—and that's why we suggest that you come in for a personal demonstration.

We'll gladly put you behind the wheel—for the most relaxing hour you ever spent on the highway.

*Optional at extra cost.

New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children Holding Minstrel Show and Tour at Open House Today

There has been much excitement these Spring days at the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children in Oak Hill where the children have been rehearsing the Minstrel Show which will be the highlight of Open House today, May 14, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Joseph S. Barr of Newton Centre is chairman of this event which the Associates of the Home hold each year for members and guests. Mrs. W. L. Allen of W. New, Pres. of the Associates, will welcome visitors and others assisting are Mrs. Eric A. Bianchi, Mrs. Henry Galup, Mrs. Herbert Grier, Mrs. George McCreery and Mrs. Avery H. Stanton. Tea will be served.

All the children at the Home are taking part in the Show even the pre-schoolers who have learned to do the Hoki-Poki. Seventeen-year old Mike is the inter-locutor assisted by two of the older boys as black-faced "endmen." One of the hit numbers is a duet by Jean and Janet called "Older and Bolder" and all the children have learned square-dancing and will do several numbers in costume. This is quite a thrill for these children who all wear braces or use crutches and spend long hours of every day in bed.

Another feature of the Open House will be a tour of the newly decorated and refurbished Nurses' Home. This building was the home of the late Dr. Henry J. Bigelow, one of the great surgeons of his time, and the original building on the hill when the New England Peabody Home was built in 1922. In recent years it has been used for the nurses and the Associates have made it one of its projects this year to make this house a pleasant place for them to live and relax in. Mrs. Charles E. Bailey and her committee including Mrs. Willis B. Clough, Mrs. B. B. Forbes, Mrs. A. Harry Hutchinson, Mrs. H. Kempton Parker and Mrs. Tressler W. Callihan have collected furniture from attics and second-hand furniture stores, attended auctions, painted and refinished chairs and tables and have spent many hours sewing draperies and slipcovers with this aim in view.

Another point of interest on today's program is the children's library. Mrs. Joseph A. Erickson is the head of the committee that has redecorated this room and brought its contents up-to-date and has succeeded in interesting the children in reading and enjoying their library. Others who have worked with Mrs. Erickson

Miss Cedergren and Mr. Batey Marry at Double Ring Ceremony

A bouquet of white roses, sweet peas and a white orchid was carried by Miss Lois F. Cedergren, daughter of Mrs. Karl F. Cedergren of 27 Indiana terrace, Newton Upper Falls, for her marriage on May 1 to Mr. Frederick H. Batey, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Batey of 83 High street, Newton Upper Falls. Rev. Francis Dee Taylor officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7:45 p.m. and a reception followed in the Parish Hall.

Gowned in white satin with lace panels, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Robert F. Cedergren. Her gown was styled with a lace bodice with a seed pearl V-neckline and a long train. Her white nylon tulle veil was caught to a white coronation crown.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Barbara A. Sansom, Rapid City, S.D., wore pink nylon tulle, a hatband of pink flowers and pink mitts. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink lilies and blue stephanotis.

The bridesmaids, Miss Irene Rockett and Miss Mary Burke, both of Dorchester, wore blue nylon tulle gowns, hatbands of blue flowers and blue mitts. They carried the same type of bouquet as that of the matron of honor.

She wore a gown of pink pink tulle, satin and imported French alencon lace styled with a fitted basque bodice and long lace sleeves. Her portrait neckline was edged with lace medallions and the bouffant tulle skirt terminated in a cathedral train. A fingertip veil of blush pink French silk illusion embroidered with sequins, was caught to a crown of orange blossoms.

Maid of honor for her sister was Miss Irene Antoinette Farina. She was attired in a waltz-length gown of orchid lace styled with a fitted bodice and a full skirt. She wore a matching orchid headpiece and carried a bouquet of mixed spring flowers.

In identical gowns of pink, aqua and Nile green with headpieces of mixed flowers matching their bouquets were the bridesmaids, Miss Rita Leblanc, Miss Janice Wilkins, Miss Ann Milligan, Miss Christine Collino and Miss Mary Jayne Cawley. ## Kickoff

"The goal of this campaign is an ambitious one and none of us is so naive as not to realize it is going to take some doing to achieve it," Bullen continued in revealing that "the campaign will be carried out by 700 to 800 volunteer workers."

Concerning the solicitation he said, "Provision is made for pledges to be spread over a period of 24 months falling within three calendar years and therefore spanning three tax years. Contributions, of course, are deductible in the computation of Federal Income Taxes to the full extent allowed by the Tax Code."

"It is important, we think, that success in our fund raising campaign means as much to the women and girls of Newton as well as to men and boys. At present we are doing the best we can for female youth, but it is not enough and can never be enough without a larger plan."

"It is important to remember that this is a capital fund we are raising and not a recurring one. It is for most a once-in-a-lifetime solicitation. Therefore, our sights as to individual gifts are justifiably high."

"Because no generation in retrospect can be greater than the generation it raises, because the YMCA is a great and good influence upon our growing and impressionable youths, because the best is none too good for Newton and because it is unthinkable that the able staff of leaders at this Y shall not be furnished with adequate tools to work with, I commend this campaign to you for thoughtful, favorable and generous consideration."

Specific needed improvements to the Y building were discussed by the Newton Young Men's Christian Association President Frederick S. Bacon who presented a verbal tour of the building to the gathering. The guests were taken on an actual tour of the building before the close of the evening.

The group was also advised that the entire soliciting organization should aim to have all calls made and reported on before June 5, because after that date, people take advantage of the vacation season and it becomes increasingly more difficult to make satisfactory calls late in June.

An interesting and informative question period followed the speakers. The meeting was conducted by Ralph B. Emery, Chairman of the Residential Division. Rev. Edward W. Nutting, associate pastor of the Second Congregational Church in West Newton, asked the invocation.

Those in attendance included a majority of the personnel in the soliciting organizations of the three campaign divisions that open solicitation today. These include the Residential Division under the Chairmanship of Ralph B. Emery; the Community Division led by Philip Goddard of Needham and the Business Division headed by Joseph E. Perry. Goddard will be assisted by Deuel Richardson as Chairman for Wellesley; Charles W. Sherman as Chairman for Waltham; Wilfred Weatherbeas as Chairman for Watertown; Leonard D. Garfield, Chairman for Belmont; and Grenfell A. Swim as Chairman for Needham.

Perry will have as his assistants in the Business Division John J. Connery as Chairman of the Industrial Section; E. Perry McGill as Chairman of the Retail Stores Section and John B. Rubenstein as Chairman of the Banks Section.

Grass-

now is an even, rich — but artificial — green.

After a time, the whole Walker street neighborhood became interested in the project. They volunteered the use of their lawns and watched Mrs. Cutting's progress with awe.

"What kept me going through the whole mad mess," she recalls, "was finding that people were so thunderstruck with it."

Not a chemist, she credits living around gardens all her life with giving her the know-how of coloring lawns. Her voice takes on a faraway quality when she describes how, as a child in her native Devonshire, she was able to pick roses outside her doorway on Christmas morning.

But gardening is not the only field that occupies her restless mind. A plastics concern has started producing a baby's "play bin" which is designed to catch an infant's toys as quick as he can toss them over the side of his crib.

Mrs. Cutting admits to having several other inventions under consideration by different companies, but declines to discuss them until they are patented and on the market.

One of her less successful ideas was for an almost automatic card table along the lines of a Rube Goldberg invention. The score was to be kept by pushing buttons which dropped markers into little pans suspended beneath the table. When the hand was played, a touch on a lever would cause the playing surface to split in the middle. The cards would then be tossed into the hole for shuffling as one of the players worked another lever.

"I'm afraid a woman just doesn't realize much about the business end of inventing," Mrs. Cutting says to explain the failure of the table. "It would just be too costly to build one."

Her husband, T. Jerome Cutting, and her two daughters, Wilma and Mrs. Marvella Happenay, agree that the table might well have been forgotten by her.

This time, though, they're not laughing when she goes back into the kitchen to work on her latest idea; changing the color of her lawn spray so it will match the yellow tint of Fall.

In announcing the award, the Director of the Office of Admissions said, "We cannot remember a previous year when such a large number of highly qualified candidates have applied for scholarships at Lehigh — over 600. In view of this strong competition we particularly commend you on rising to the top of the group and receiving this award."

In treatment, speech training and recreation in Boston. Transportation is provided in Springfield, Newton, Wellesley, Boston, New Bedford and Fall River. In addition valuable work is done in parent education and consultation and in educating the public and the medical profession about cerebral palsy.

A constant program of research is being carried forward in an attempt to prevent the acquired abnormalities which typify the cerebral palsied. Further research is necessary to determine new methods of rehabilitating those already affected. Since each case of cerebral palsy is different from the next, treatment and rehabilitation calls for a high degree of ingenuity and experience.

The local committee of the United Cerebral Palsy group is headed by F. Payson LeBaron, of Auburndale who serves as president. Mr. John L. MacNeil is vice president for Newton and Mrs. William Haines, vice president for Wellesley. Mrs. Evelyn Pettiner is recording secretary. Mr. Benion Moskow is treasurer of the Newton-Wellesley group.

"Should you plan to be away from home at the time of the postman's second call on Wednesday, May 20," said Mr. LeBaron, "We hope that you will be appreciative enough of our needs to mail a contribution to United Cerebral Palsy care of your local postmaster. Anything that you give will be of great assistance to those children and adults who suffer not from a disease but from the type of injury which might easily happen to any of us."

Mahded Grotto To Entertain Supreme Monarch

The Mahded Grotto, Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm, will entertain the Supreme Grand Monarch O. Carlisle Brock, internationally known big game hunter and explorer, and Mrs. Brock of Erie, Pa., at the Dedham High School Auditorium Tuesday, May 19 at 8 p.m.

On this occasion the Grotto will entertain Master Masons, their families and friends from surrounding areas.

The Brocks have spent many long months in the arctic hunting Kodiak bear as well as in darkest parts of Africa and India in search of the many specimens which have credited them with six world's records and thousands of trophies. The Brocks not only use rifles but hunt with cameras, which record their many expeditions after the elusive big-game animals. They have captured on film the different species of the antelope and deer families of Africa and India; the lions, tigers, leopards, elephants, rhinoceros, giraffes, cheetahs; the wild bird life and all the smaller animals that inhabit the jungles of these countries.

The series of elephant pictures taken by the Brocks are considered the best ever brought to America. Outstanding also are the pictures of the witch-doctors of India making preparations for a gigantic tiger hunt climaxed by the final scenes of the kill.

The Brocks carry extensive medical supplies in addition to their hunting equipment, and many scenes show Grand Monarch Brock tending the needs of the natives.

Grand Monarch Brock is one of America's most accomplished speakers and lectures with his pictures giving a running account which readily transports his audience to the scene of the hunt. O. Carlisle Brock was born in eastern Canada of Scotch parentage who came from Paisley, Scotland in 1863 to settle in Nantucket, later taking up land in Canada. He was educated in Sutton Academy, Stanstead Wesleyan College, Macdonald College, McGill University, and Cornell University having been awarded the degrees of Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy. ## Annual Meeting of Council of Parent-Teachers Ass'ns is Held

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Council of Parent-Teachers Associations was held Monday evening at the new Clafin School on Lowell avenue, Newtonville. Horace Ransom, President, greeted about sixty members of the Council and welcomed Superintendent of Schools Harold Gores, Assistant Superintendent Charles Richter, Mrs. Genevieve Onley and Haskell Freedman of the School Committee.

The report of the Health and Safety Committee was read by the Executive Secretary for the Chairman, Mr. William Tullis. Going to and from school, cafeteria problems, and the study of snow removal have received much attention this year.

Mrs. Harry Brenner reported for the Radio and TV Committee that Educational Channel 2 is to be a reality, will be sponsored by the Lowell Institute station WGBH and is non-commercial.

Mr. George Koller reviewed the Children's Entertainment program, stressing its enthusiastic reception and outlining plans for the coming season.

The School Evaluation Committee, Mr. C. E. Worthen, Chairman, reported a citywide study of parental opinion of the elementary schools.

Mrs. Evald Swanson outlined the findings of the Scholarship Committee, how and when and where to obtain applications, how the examinations are taken and graded, comparison of costs of education over a five year period, sample tests, college handbooks and available publications.

Mr. Clark Fisher reported that the Handbook Committee is planning a handbook of two volumes, one to be directed to all Parents — a PTA handbook and school guide, and another directed to the Officers — a PTA operating Manual of standard procedures.

The Teacher Preparation Committee, Mr. E. Leslie Robart, Chairman, reported the great problem to remedy the shortage of teachers. They suggest that we work for Governor Herter's 4-point program, coordinate with other PTA groups, report reactions frequently to the State House, create a master committee to cover Teachers' Salaries, Preparation, etc., and compare our problems with state-wide problems. Mr. Richter reported that the Teachers' Colleges are graduating only one-half of the needed teachers.

Mr. Thomas De Wan reported the completion of Murray Road, Clafin and Countryside Schools, and that the Beethoven Avenue and Spaulding Schools are under construction. It is hoped that the Mason-Rice School will be replaced in the very near future.

Mrs. McGinn outlined the Spring Conference to be held at the Countryside School, Walnut street, on June 4th from 2 until 10 p.m. The "Broader Scope of PTA" will be considered by six discussion groups: clarifying and fulfilling PTA objectives, Community relationships, Programs, Activities of PTA, The Mechanics of PTA, and Understanding secondary education. All Officers and members of PTA associations are welcome to attend.

Mrs. McGinn's Executive Secretary's report interpreted the By-laws of the Council, spoke of the many committees that carry on the work of the Council, including the 250 members of these committees; the Purpose of the Council—the medium for closer cooperation for major activities, for research in subject areas and to stimulate the exchange of ideas; the growth of the Council; the space given to the Council by the School Age; the second Spring Conference; the participation in the Human Relations Committee, and the help given to PTAs in other communities.

Mr. Ransom, the retiring President, outlined his hopes for the future of the Council, for the evaluation Completion, for the evaluation of our PTA organization, for matters of current interest such as TV and Curriculum, for more information on Legislation, for more or less entertainment, and for a committee on child and group behavior.

Mr. Manuel Beckwith, Nominating Committee Chairman, presented the following slate of Officers:

President—Melvin Dangel; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Sylvester McGinn; 2nd Vice-President, E. Leslie Robart; 3rd Vice-President, Clark Fisher; Treasurer, Mrs.

Franklin Jerome; Executive Secretary, Mrs. Herbert W. Rubin; Recording Secretary, Mrs. David M. Hume.

After the new Board was introduced, the Principal of the Clafin School, Harry Anderson, took the Council members on a tour of the school.

Pay Raise for State Employees Would Involve New Taxes

Democratic politicians on Beacon Hill, who have been blasting the action by Republican legislative leaders in refusing to grant a salary increase this year to State employees, have been accomplishing the unusual feat of taking out of both sides of their mouth at the same time.

They have loudly announced themselves in favor of a $480-a-year raise for State employees, while at the same time declaring they would not even consider enacting any new taxes or increasing any old ones.

It's conceivable that some people may be hoodwinked by this line of double-talk, but the plain fact of the matter is that it would be impossible to grant a substantial increase to State employees without adopting new taxes—unless the Democratic legislators have in mind printing up some script for the occasion.

A $480-a-year wage boost for State workers would cost in excess of $14,000,000, and so far as we know there's no painless method of raising that tidy sum, even though one legislator the other day defined a painless tax as one somebody else has to pay.

'Good Possibility' of Lower Taxes in '54, Says Assessor

Edward Fahey, Newton assessor, stated there was a "good possibility" that the Newton tax rate might be reduced next year in an address delivered at the annual meeting last Thursday of the Newton Corner Improvement Association in the Underwood School.

He said the considerable industrial construction may aid in lowering the rate. "No city can be 100 per cent residential and have a moderate tax rate," Mr. Fahey declared. "Business centers are necessary to take some of the burden off the shoulders of resident owners."

Newton receives revenue from four general sources, he explained. They are real estate taxes, motor vehicle taxes, personal property taxes and poll taxes. The city loses about $25,000,000 worth of taxable property because the land belongs to religious organizations or schools. Disabled veterans have certain exemptions granted them, as well as aged people and widows, he said.

The state collects motor vehicle taxes, Mr. Fahey continued, but returns them to the city. The third source, the personal property tax, amounts to a large figure in the cases of utilities and corporations. However, raising the personal exemption to $5000 in 1951 lost the city about $10,000,000 in valuation and raised the tax rate $2.

Mr. Fahey advocated either abolishing or increasing the poll tax, claiming that it cost as much to collect as was received.

Rep. George E. Rawson, outlining recommendations he had made to the Legislature, said he felt the proposed East-West toll road should stop at Route 128. He reported on another suggestion that the road should be divided this side of Framingham.

Newton Favors A Municipal State League

The City of Newton has urged the establishment of a Municipal League of Massachusetts cities and towns for several years. There are 44 leagues of this character in the country, and such organizations supply important assistance to cities and towns which have been lacking in Massachusetts for many years but existent in many other states.

At the April meeting of the Massachusetts Mayors' Association a vote was passed that a Committee be formed to study the subject and report at the May meeting. This committee reported favorably that a Municipal League should be organized in Massachusetts.

Mayor Lockwood as president of the Massachusetts Mayors' Association is extending an invitation to the Executive Committee of the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association to meet at a dinner session with the Executive Committee of the Massachusetts Mayors' Association in further settlement of the development.

Municipal Leagues at present serve some 11,300 municipalities in the country and are federated nationally through the American Municipal Association. Concerted action of the League with an organized staff covers such important phases of city and town life as legislative needs on research and educational activities beyond the means of the individual municipality to provide alone due to varying characters of municipalities within each state. The individual Leagues devote studies to local situations but with the advantage of contact with all others in the 44 other leagues.

tural Relations of the National Council of Churches and on the board of managers of United Church Women. She holds B. S. and M. A. degrees from New York University and a doctorate in religious education from Columbia University. Her work on the Council includes speaking, teaching, conducting conferences, serving on committees, and coordinating the work of the Department, promoting especially those aspects of the work which can be done best on an interdenominational basis. Her emphasis has been on work with young people through assisting in the development of youth councils, and promoting activities which will make Protestant youth felt as a force in the state.

The annual meeting, which will precede the program, will be conducted by Ralph B. Emery, president of the Newton Council. Reports will be made on the screen with kodochrome slides, and will show pictorially the work of the year. Further reports will be given by the Budget Committee which is comprised of Edson Fitch, chairman, Mrs. Raymond A. Green, and M. J. Hamant, and by the Nominating Committee which includes the Rev. Hamilton Gifford, chairman, Donald Perry, and Mrs. Anthony Jauregui. The Committee on Revision of the Council Constitution, under the chairmanship of H. Dowell Jones, will present the proposed constitution for ratification.

Other members of this committee are the Rev. Edmund Nutting and Jess Traylor. Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst and Edson Fitch are the Committee on Arrangements for the Annual Meeting Dinner.

The Newton Council of Churches is the accredited agency through which six denominations and twenty-six churches cooperate in common tasks. It is the central organization through which these separate bodies are united in undertakings that can be carried out better together than separately. The Newton Y. M. C. A. is also a valued member. The governing body is composed of 180 delegated representatives meeting twice a year. In the interim, an executive committee of fifteen members meets for the supervision of the Council's work.

Among other community services maintained by the churches together, the Council sponsors a chaplain to the Aged, a Scout Chaplain, and a Chaplain and Referral service at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. In all corporate church life, by villages and

Cooking School, Sponsored by The Graphic, a Huge Success

The second annual Cooking School sponsored by The Graphic, which was held at the Newton Centre Women's Club last Thursday afternoon, proved to be a huge success, far exceeding last year's school both in the matter of attendance, enthusiasm and prizes.

Mrs. Willard Fittin, 75 Sumner street, Newton Centre, was awarded the major prize of a beautiful kitchen table and chair set. When her name was announced by Mr. Richard Davis, publisher of The Graphic, Mrs. Fittin could hardly believe her ears. "This," she said, "is the first prize I have ever won and to win such a lovely gift is more than I could have hoped for. The set will fit in beautifully with my kitchen color scheme and I am delighted that I attended The Graphic's Cooking School, which I thoroughly enjoyed."

Mrs. Fittin has lived in Newton for the past 13 years, the

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY

BOTH of these buildings are important to Massachusetts. One is historically important, the other is vital to the development of modern Massachusetts.

Last year the Telephone Company undertook new construction in this state amounting to $35,000,000 for new buildings and for the addition of new facilities and equipment. What did this mean to the state, and to its communities? It meant increased employment . . . more money paid to local merchants and suppliers . . . and more and better telephone service.

The Telephone Company also paid $86,000,000 in wages and salaries to Massachusetts telephone people, and paid state and local taxes amounting to $8,000,000. And $59,000,000 was spent in miscellaneous purchases from businesses and manufacturers throughout the state; not only for the New England Company, but also on behalf of other companies in the Bell System.

Yes — Massachusetts benefits in many ways from telephone growth and development, and from daily telephone operations.

Jackson Homestead Requests Furnishings

The Jackson Homestead is being included in a list of points of exceptional historic interest throughout greater Boston. "The Pageant of Boston", which will be observed during the two weeks beginning June 14, will draw attention to the fine old churches, houses and other shrines which are preserving the rich cultural heritage of this area.

According to Mr. Fred C. Alexander, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Homestead, the Board is desirous that for this particular period the house may be as attractively and as completely equipped as possible. A request is made to the citizens of Newton for temporary loans during June, or better yet, for permanent gifts, of certain articles needed to supplement the present furnishings. All items should date back to 1809, the year the house was built, or before.

Specific pieces of furniture desired are a secretary, a sofa, a grandfather clock, candlestands, card tables, a washstand, a blanket chest, a trundle bed, a wing chair, mirrors, and braided or hooked rugs.

Small items for the bedroom and parlor are also needed. Among these are candlesticks, oil lamps, andirons, sewing box, silhouettes and paintings. For the kitchen, the requests include a reflecting oven, butter churn, lanterns, bellows, a revolving toaster and small powder horn.

All items will be accepted for loan only after approval by the Antique Committee as being of appropriate age and suitability. There will be adequate insurance coverage.

Any Newton people who wish to participate in this particular project should contact Mrs. Arnold, Director of the Jackson Homestead, at DE 2-3920.

Political Overtones-

Sen. Taft Administration's Right Arm...

During the political campaign last fall, President Eisenhower confided to Republican leaders that, if he were elected, he intended to serve only one term and would not run again in 1956.

It is entirely possible, of course, that he will change his mind before the spring of 1956, and it would not be at all surprising, if he did so, but some G.O.P. politicians suspect that he may stand fast on his original plan of serving but four years.

There already is occasional speculation among top-level Republicans as to who is likely to carry their party's banner in 1956, if Eisenhower insists on stepping out of the picture, and whether there may be still another battle between Governor Dewey and Senator Taft.

While Dewey declared some time ago that he was serving his last term as Governor of New York, recent hints have come from Albany that he might change his mind and run for reelection next year—to remain a potential contender for the Presidency in 1956 or even in 1960.

When Senator Taft was defeated by President Eisenhower for the Republican Presidential nomination at Chicago last July, after it was almost within his grasp, it appeared to most observers that irreparable damage had been done to his prestige and that he was almost certain to be relegated to a comparatively minor role in his party. That has been far from the fact.

A surprising development during the first four months of the Eisenhower administration has been the immense influence and power wielded by Taft, and next to the President himself he is today the most important figure in the national government.

One of Washington's most able political writers this week described Taft as "the rock upon which the Eisenhower administration must rest in Congress—and the rock against which the skipper must take care not to dash his ship."

It is evident from carefully worded reports, both written and verbal, that Taft has laid down the political law even to the President himself and that in almost every instance the Ohio Senator has had his way. In turn, he has quieted Republican dissatisfaction in Congress with certain phases of the Eisenhower administration.

Taft, for example, informed President Eisenhower that there are certain political attitudes he must adopt to maintain a harmonious working relationship with Congress. He insisted that Secretary of Defense Wilson keep quiet on fiscal matters and follow the leadership of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

He not only has been the President's top adviser on domestic matters from the very outset of this administration, but his influence now also extends well into the field of international affairs.

The manner in which Senator Taft conducts himself is an extremely interesting one. He does not force his ideas upon the White House on most matters—at least not until they are requested.

Taft's procedure is to let it be known that he is available for consultation when he is wanted. His knowledge of the national government is such that when he is called into conference and his opinions are sought, he invariably has a ready solution to the problem confronting the Eisenhower administration. Taft is the blunt, outspoken type who doesn't hesitate to admonish the President himself and tell him he is steering a wrong course.

That is an amazing situation, when you view it against the background of events that occurred 11 months ago, and consider the bitterness of the fight that was waged in Chicago between the Eisenhower and Taft wings of the Republican party.

Most top Republicans consider that Taft has given up entirely his Presidential ambitions after defeats at three G.O.P. national conventions and that he is completely satisfied with his new role as good right arm to the Eisenhower administration.

Time may prove that Taft has divested himself of his ambition to be President of the United States and that all such hope vanished on a hot day in Chicago last July. If that is so and if President Eisenhower does limit himself to one term, we would venture the opinion that Taft will dedicate himself to seeing that Governor Dewey's Presidential dreams also belong to the past.

RANDOM CLIPPINGS

Mrs. Julia A. Keller of West Haven, Conn., has brought suit against a rinse manufacturer, charging that its product made her a strawberry blond, causing her so much "humiliation" that she gave up social life for nearly a year.

A bus driver in Bath, England, who had been operating a single-decker bus, was given a double-decker for his route, rammed the 13-foot-high vehicle into a bridge that had only a 11½-foot clearance and was promptly fined $5.60. We're mildly curious as to how he was expected to cover his route with a vehicle that wouldn't go under the bridges.

Two hundred African port workers went on strike in Mombasa, Kenya, last week for free raincoats. They protested that the rainy season is now on that they're being soaked daily.

While examining the report card brought home by his nine-year-old son, J. Bruce Synnot, Jr., of Houston discovered the teacher had made the comment: "Careless in his spelling."

A retired attorney in Tampa, Fla., discovered last week that it isn't necessary to puff on a cigar to smoke it. He was found guilty of violating an ordinance against smoking on a bus, even though he was only holding a lighted cigar in his hand. The judge ruled that the intent and purpose of the ordinance was to keep the bus from being contaminated with smoke. "That means from between your lips or between your fingers," quoth he. He has a point there.

James J. Cunningham of Waterloo, Ia., accused his former wife, Donna Maxine Hull, of causing $500 worth of damage in his home by carving her name on two tables, a radio, a piano, a buffet, a bedroom chest, and a refrigerator. Maybe she didn't want to be forgotten.

Los Angeles detectives discovered that Superior Court Judge William B. Neely's black robe had been borrowed by City Hall Janitor James Langley who explained: "I just sort of borrowed those robes to preach in, because I'm a deacon in my church."

After studying the matter at length, the City Council in Martinsville, Ind., decided against insuring the community's new $14,000 fire truck because it would "always" have the right way. A few days later, the fire truck hit the community's only police car and was wrecked.

Three years after they had issued him a speeding summons, State police in Trenton, N. J., received a $15 check and a note from Robert A. Caldwell of Proctor, Ark., which read: "I can't stand it any longer. Here's your money. The highway patrolman who arrested me was a damn good Yankee."

Ground Breaking Ceremonies at West Newton Unitarian Society Held on Last Thursday

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the new courtyard enclosure, a $62,000 building addition of the First Unitarian Society in Newton, were held last Thursday morning in the courtyard of the West Newton Unitarian Church, Washington street, West Newton. Joseph C. Skinner, chairman of the board of trustees, the Rev. John Ogden Fisher, minister, and Mrs. Harry E. Raymond, new president of the West Newton Branch Alliance and newly-elected trustee, took out the first shovelfuls of earth.

Those attending the early-morning ground-breaking celebration included:

Rev. Ernest W. Kuebler, executive vice-president, American Unitarian Association; Rev. and Mrs. John O. Fisher, with their sons, Jonathan and Eric; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Skinner and daughter, Susan; A. Bela Sziklas, church architect, and Mrs. Sziklas; George Cheney, of George Cheney, Inc., Wellesley, contractors; Alderman and Mrs. William R. Mattson representing the city of Newton; Rev. Robert C. Yarbrough, minister of Second Congregational Church, West Newton; Rabbi Irving A. Mandel, Temple Shalom, West Newton; General Daniel Needham, former trustee and parish legal consultant; Louis Fabian Bachrach, Jr., chairman of the Building Fund Committee; Henry Whitmore Jr., chairman, Building Plans Committee, and Mrs. Whitmore.

The new building, using the 4700 square feet of courtyard space, will be one-story over a partial excavation, with a flat roof surmounted by modern plastic bubble skylights. The structure will contain a children's chapel, eight additional church school classrooms, children's washroom facilities, and a new parish kitchen, adjacent to and connected with the present large parish house hall. The parish auditorium will then be used for large dinner meetings, and the present second-floor kitchen and dining room will then be used for other activities, including a clubroom for the Jaynes League, American Unitarian Youth.

The new construction will not spoil the Gothic architecture of the West Newton Unitarian church buildings, nor affect the beautiful stained glass windows of the church edifice. It will, however, cover the windows of the parish hall, Memorial Alliance Room and the present office corridor facing the courtyard.

The unique building plans, which save considerable expense by the elimination of four one-story outside walls by means of roofing over the courtyard for the new building addition, were conceived and drawn by A. Bela Sziklas, architect, who is a member of the building plans committee.

The building contract, approximating $62,000, was awarded to George Cheney, Inc., Wellesley, and was signed and formally announced Monday night at the annual parish meeting.

"lap-out" ceremony is to confirm by Indian symbolism the election of a boy to membership by his brother Scouts. A Scout does not know he has been selected until the ceremony.

The Order of the Arrow, which is an honorary society of Scouts dedicated to service, makes the ceremony an Indian pageant of inspiring proportions.

This year there were a record number of 30 Scouts "tapped-out" by the Order of the Arrow, including these Newton Scouts: Worthing West, Jr., of Troop 5; Daniel Fawcett of Troop 27; Paul Brown of Troop 72; Richard Rosbeck of Troop 14; Alfred Taylor of Troop 4B; Bruce Harper of Troop 10; Raymond Morrison and Tenny Peck of Troop 9; Keith Fox of Troop 4A; Henry Gaske of Explorer Post 4; Thomas Gochberg of Troop 17; Stanley Hiron of Troop 25; David Ritchie of Troop 19; Myron Kasok of Explorer Post 17; Paul Sanroma of Explorer Post 21; Larry Stapin of Troop 100; Robert David of Troop 18; George Hellerman of Troop 11; Robert Seyfarth of Troop 7C; Kent Brauninger of Troop 7; and Donald Dery of Explorer Post 7. Upon successful completion of the forthcoming "ordal weekend," these boys will become full-fledged Order of the Arrow members.

The competitive portion of the Spring Camporee, wherein the individual Boy Scout Patrols and Explorer Crews vie for honors in constructing and operating a "wilderness" camp, was cancelled because of the heavy storm which began early Sunday morning.

To provide maximum safety at the Camporee, there were in attendance Drs. Frank Foster, and Neil W. Swinton; the Newton Chapter Red Cross ambulance.

Andy Park Ranks Wonderland Favorite

A rookie of the year last season at Wonderland, Andy Park, illustrious son of the former racing celebrities, Bill Tanner and Windy Canyon, now ranks as the favorite contender to be crowned Wonderland's top greyhound for the 1953 greyhound racing season.

By winning the Wonderland Inaugural Race in a most auspicious manner, six full lengths, Andy Park holds the attention of Wonderland's dog racing fans and many of them are rooting for the Chappel kennel star to beat all comers in the future championship events.

Last season the rookie, Andy Park, won the Wonderland Futurity Stake Race to start off his amazing career and since then has added many Florida championships at the West Flagler dogtrack in Florida.

Credit for the training and development of Andy Park has to go to his combination owner-trainer, Aaron Kulchinsky, of Revere, who raised him from a pup and gave him all the attention and care that a future champion is entitled to.

This Saturday, May 23, from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M., unless rain interferes, the Newton Art Association will hold its first outdoor exhibition and sale at the Mason School Yard, Newton Centre Square. This sidewalk show is directed by Mrs. Paula Newman who has indicated that there will be on display well over 200 low-priced paintings, all by Association members. This Art festival will be a truly colorful occasion, and should provide a rare opportunity for Newton folks to see their neighbor, perhaps, enjoying a worthwhile avocation. The entire show is open to the public without any charge.

The recent regular meeting of the association was given over to the associate members, who submitted twenty of their own paintings. The "jury" of active members included Past-Presidents James K. Bonnar, and

Mus-Gro Compost Makes Poor Earth Good for Plants

Prime ingredient of any good garden is the soil the plants grow in. Today, science is credited with an assist to nature in making it possible to transform the poorest kind of earth into proper planting ground.

Mus-Gro Compost is outstanding among organic products. This is a mixture of good loam and horse manure on which a crop of mushrooms has been grown without extracting the fertility from the mixture. Tis an excellent product recommended for cases where high organic soils are required. Mus-Gro is clean and easily handled to supply badly needed humus to soil.

Mus-Gro compost has been thoroughly mixed, screened and packed in moisture-proof bags.

Are you paying too much for fire insurance?

Do you own a well-built house in Newton? If so, you can qualify for insurance with Liberty Mutual, the company of careful people. My customers have regularly saved 25% on home fire insurance.

The Liberty Mutual plan of dealing direct with home owners also means prompt personal service. As a full-time Liberty Mutual man living nearby, I'm easy to reach. But if I should happen to be out, you can always reach my Service Representative in our Boston office. She's highly trained to give you any insurance information or service you may need, and she's always "in" during business hours.

Direct service means fast help, too, in case of fire. To find out if you can qualify for this money-saving service, just give me a ring.

Solicitation For Y Fund Now Underway

Solicitation in the Residential Division of the Newton YMCA's 75th Anniversary Building Fund Campaign is now underway. Wilbur W. Bullen, General Chairman of the Campaign, announced today. Bullen reported that some 800 volunteer solicitors have already begun calling on 8,000 prospective contributors in a concerted effort to raise funds for the YMCA's program of improvement and expansion. In a statement urging the people of Newton to support the Young Men's Christian Association drive for funds Bullen said, "Naturally, in a city having a population of over 82,000 people, many families won't be called upon. It is virtually impossible to organize a soliciting army large enough to call upon every home in Newton. Nevertheless, it is hoped that a large majority of all citizens will participate in this Campaign designed to make it possible for the Newton Y to serve the constantly increasing needs of the community."

He also announced that Report Nights will be held at the Campaign Headquarters Monday and Thursday through June 4. All teams and all Divisions have been asked to make their reports on these nights.

Governor Herter Prevented Waste of Public Funds ...
Facts Misrepresented by Sponsors of Lagoon Plan ...

A vast amount of unadulterated political nonsense has resounded from the high-ceilinged walls of the House and Senate Chambers at the State House during the wordy dispute over the repeal of a bill killing plans for the construction of a fantastic lagoon at City Point in South Boston.

Some supporters of the plan obviously intend making this action a campaign issue next year by sending up the cry that the people were ruthlessly deprived of a great public improvement which would have turned City Point into one of the world's beauty spots.

One State Senator, with a remarkable demonstration of the importance in which he holds himself, declared the other day that the South Boston project was killed as a political reprisal against him because of all he did for ex-Governor Dever in last fall's campaign.

It's about time that someone stepped forward and pointed out that the repeal of the amazing lagoon bill prevented the pouring of about $750,000 of the people's money down the drain.

Either the men who originally advanced this proposition didn't go into it very thoroughly, or they were trying to kid the public with some of their statements, and the only weakness in the position of the Republicans who killed the lagoon project is that they haven't really told their side of the story.

N.U.F. Woman Calls Worcester Pike 'Murder on My Doorstep'

"Murder on my doorstep" is not the name of the latest blood-curdling mystery thriller. It's what one Newton Upper Falls woman calls a part of the Worcester turnpike in front of her home.

Mrs. A. Hutton Vignoles of 1235 Boylston street, Newton Upper Falls, has seen many neighbors barely miss being hit by cars speeding over the hill. Several have been killed.

"Every dog that has been let loose has been killed," she declares. "Nobody with small children can live here. The sparkler sign in front of my house was knocked down 25 times before 1940. Since then, we have lost count."

Mr. and Mrs. Vignoles live in an old Newton homestead that was almost decimated by the highway. The gently sloping front lawn halts abruptly about 30 above the ground with a sheer rock wall beside a cut-off from the turnpike to Chestnut street.

"This road," she says, indicating the steady stream of cars passing the window, "has been cited by some city planners as an example of every mistake it is possible to make in designing a road. And the hill out there is one of the worst mistakes of them all."

Outside her house, the turnpike rises sharply over the hill, suddenly narrowing from three lanes on the Boston side to two lanes over the crest of the hill.

Women Voters Urge Extension Of the Reciprocal Trade Act

The League of Women Voters of Newton has issued an appeal to all its members to write, wire or personally approach New England congressmen and senators urging support of President Eisenhower's plan to extend the present Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for one year.

The Newton unit of the League is especially disturbed by a bill filed by Rep. Simpson (R-Pa.), which would place import quotas on fuel oil, lead and zinc; increase the number of tariff commissioners from six to seven, destroying the commission's bipartisan nature; removal of the president's discretion to accept or reject tariff commission findings.

"Here in New England," stated the Newton League, "the Simpson Bill quota restrictions on oil imports would have a serious effect on our industries. It has been estimated that on the basis of 1951 imports, the proposed quota would reduce fuel oil imports by about 75 percent."

This area gets about 97 percent of the fuel oil used by industries, public utilities and large buildings, from Venezuela, and shutting off the supply would result in "a prohibitive increase in price," the League said.

The increase would be passed on to the consumer, taking away any advantages presently enjoyed by New England products. Further, if Venezuela loses its American market, New England importers would have difficulty selling their goods there.

"It is important that prompt action be taken," the League declared, "to let our representative know that we believe in lifting trade barriers to enable our world neighbors to help themselves."

Fire Chief Warns of Hazard By Plastic Balloon Product

Although no sales have been reported in Newton, Fire Chief John E. Corcoran today issued a warning of the possible fire dangers of a plastic product known as "Magic U-Blow-It Plastic Balloons."

A report made to Chief Corcoran from the State Police Chemical Laboratory about tests made on the product follows:

A portion of the contents was tested. It was found to consist of an inflammable plastic material mixed with inflammable fluid. This fluid had a flash point at or below room temperature.

Another portion of the contents of each tube ignited readily when exposed to a low temperature flame and continued to burn slowly until a black residue remained.

Plastic balloons were prepared from the contents of each tube. The balloons failed to ignite when brought in contact with a red-hot metal surface. Upon contact with both a high and low temperature flame the balloons shriveled to a small size and then ignited readily and continued to burn slowly until a black residue remained.

Chief Corcoran reported that efforts are being made to block the sale of the plastic material. The tests were made, he said, after a child was burned to death as the result of a fire caused by one of the balloons coming in contact with a stove.

Forty-second Annual Spring Concert Is Largely Attended

Last evening at the Newton High School a large and interested audience of parents and friends came together for the forty-second Annual Spring Concert of the All-Newton Music School.

The young students presented an outstanding program of ensemble and solo music and won the enthusiastic applause of those present. The solo work with orchestra accompaniment showed the very careful and thorough training given the students who acquitted themselves with easy assurance in the various difficult parts. The work of the piano department was superbly demonstrated by a group of Chopin selections and a group of modern works. Sally Dickinson did credit to the voice department in a group of pleasing songs.

Several of the seniors who took part in the concert will be given

Student Diploma Recitals during the first two weeks in June.

These include Beverly Rickum, Phyllis Iserman, Carolyn Jobs, Marjorie Myers all of the piano department, Bruce MacDonald, violin department, and Sally Dickinson, voice department. Gail Crosby of the violin department will present an ensemble program for her student diploma. These diplomas are awarded to those students who have completed the work prescribed by the Music School through the Intermediate Grade and who have given a representative program before an audience.

Ask Aldermen Vote Million From Surplus

The Newton Taxpayers' Association in its bulletin to members this week urges the Aldermen to vote $1 million from the city's available funds to insure a reduction in the 1953 tax rate.

Pointing out that more than a million dollars has been certified by the state as being "available" the Association contends that sufficient reserves for quick emergencies would be maintained if the recommended sum were used to apply on the tax rate. The Association reminds its members that last year it recommended a more extensive use of surplus for this purpose and that a majority of the Aldermen present at the meeting, though not the necessary majority of the full Board agreed.

While agreeing that the tax rate in itself is not the only factor in determining the size of the tax bills, the Association points out that the vote to be taken on June 1 is critical to the immediate problem and urges its business and individual members to express their views to their representatives on the Board of Aldermen.

The bulletin further argues in favor of a low surplus, low tax rate policy as follows:

Massachusetts law requires the taxpayers to supply necessary funds for municipal operations for the current year, not to build up an excessive surplus for remote contingencies.

A government is not like a business in that a governmental reserve for short term emergencies is enough since the power to tax is not subject to the risks a business must consider;

A heavy surplus in municipal financing is indicative of over taxation;

Mus-Gro Compost the Ideal Soil Improver, Rated the Best

Mus-Gro Compost is a new balanced soil improver... Ideal for shrubs, evergreens, seedlings, flowers, gardens, rose bushes, trees, and lawnmaking.

Mus-Gro Compost, a highly organic humus by-product of mushroom culture has been thoroughly mixed, screened and packed in moisture proof bags without the addition of any chemicals or other material. The basic ingredient of Mus-Gro is horse manure which has been aged and composted with all its value retained. When tested with Morgan's Universal Soil Testing System, it shows the following:

Nitrate Nitrogen—Medium	Ammonia Nitrogen—Low Medium
Available Phosphorus—Very High	Available Potash—Very High
Calcium—High	Magnesium—Medium High

There are, of course, all of the minor trace elements, hormones, minerals, and enzymes that manure is known to contain. It is bacterially active, and helps to break down and utilize nutritive elements already present in the soil, as well as adding its own.

Mus-Gro Compost is easy to handle, its appearance is pleasing and stimulates beneficial soil bacteria. MUS-GRO increases the soil's moisture holding capacity and increases the humus content of the soil. MUS-GRO is a natural organic soil improver.

How does the MUS-GRO COMPOST work? All soil is composed of finely divided rock, organic material and water which contains soluble mineral salts. The organic matter and water are the two items most apt to be missing. The organic matter as it decomposes, forms humus and humus helps the soil to hold the water and the nutrients. Mus-Gro Compost provides just such an assist.

This product manufactured by the Kel-Ros Products of Woburn is now on sale at Wyman's, Treeland and Winslow Nurseries.

He was first elected to the Board in 1942 and has served continuously since that time, 8 years as chairman of the important Public Works Committee of the Board.

8 Webelo Awards Highlight Pack 13 Father, Son Banquet

The presentation of eight Webelo awards, the highest award that can be earned in Cub Scouting, highlighted the annual Father and Son Banquet of Pack 13 of the Franklin School, last Thursday night at the Second Church, West Newton.

Nineteen den mothers and their assistants were the honored guests for the evening and were presented corsages in the Cub Scout colors of blue and gold. Those honored included Harriet Buchanan, Eleanor Restuccia, Barbara Cleveland, Ann MacKay, Estelle Dangel, Lillian Fraser, Mae Tanner, Charlotte Halliday, Agnes Cicco, Dae Carr, Ruth Olson, Helen Ingham, Dot King, Margaret Aucoin, Hazel Smith, Naomi Lipkin, Gwenn Zukor, Edith Hathaway, Irene Morrill and Irene Minichiello.

The program, led by Cubmaster Harry Halliday, included a spaghetti dinner, songs, traditional Indian ceremonies and a Laurel and Hardy film feature.

Joseph Greenbaum Elected President Temple Emanuel

Joseph Greenbaum was elected president of Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre, for the coming year at the annual congregation dinner meeting held recently in the Temple's new Community Hall.

Other officers elected were Bennett Rockman, first vice president; Irwin Benjamin, second vice president; Maurice G. Alperin, third vice president; Rubin Epstein, treasurer; Benjamin M. Striberg, recording secretary; and Leonard L. Kabler, financial secretary.

Elected to 3-year terms on the Board of Trustees were Nathan R. Angoff, Joseph G. Deitz, Mark A. Edison, Dr. I. A. Finkelstein, Sol Finkelstein, Joseph Greenbaum, Clarence N. Jacobson, Leonard L. Kabler, Abraham I. Kaye, Bennett Rockman, Arthur Rosenberg, Col. Louis I. Rosenfield, Benjamin Waldman, Joseph G. Waxman and David W. Bernstein.

Chairman of the trustees Deitz presented a gift to Peter Groper, retiring president, on behalf of the Temple's membership for his three years of service.

Dr. Albert I. Gordon, spiritual leader, delivered a message emphasizing the need for vision in planning for the spiritual and cultural growth of the congregation. He called attention, too, to the need for a greater recognition of the responsibility of persons professing to be religious to assume leadership in the larger community.

A moving picture history of Temple Emanuel was shown by Oscar Horowitz, noted Newton amateur movie-maker.

Shut-in Sunday

The first Sunday in June is always Shut-in Sunday all over the United States, Canada and Great Britain. This year it comes on June 7.

Last Thursday, the directors of the Massachusetts Branch of the Shut-in Society met at the home of Miss Barbara Horton of Beacon Street, the president of this branch, to address cards and make plans to bring happiness to invalids. It is hoped that every one will make an effort to call on some Shut-in friend especially on this day.

Already the Massachusetts Branch has made 1586 calls this year. Mrs. Charles H.
Myers of Wellesley Hills is chairman of this committee.

The Wheel Chair committee is headed by Miss Dorothy Miner, who keeps 100 wheel chairs in circulation among the Shut-ins, who rent them for a nominal sum.

Mrs. Horace D. Brush of Brookline is chairman of the Helping Hand and distributes yarn, stamps and writing paper to members when they are needed.

There is a Library Committee which has books to loan to those who care to have them. Mrs. Richard D. Walker of Farlow road, Newton, sends out these.

Another pleasant feature is the remembrances at Christmas and birthdays in charge of Durham Jones of Boston and Mrs.
M. R. Hammett of Brookline.

Many other committees in this organization are active in making Shut-ins' lives more pleasant and it is hoped that Shut-in Sunday will become better known each year.

Will you help in this praiseworthy endeavor? You can help by visiting some shut-in Sunday, June 7.

Political Overtures

President Eisenhower is encountering quiet but stubborn resistance in his own party to many phases of his program, and it is becoming increasingly clear that he must obtain substantial Democratic support to put over a number of his proposals.

The President's recommendation for a six months extension of the excess profits tax on corporations is just one instance where Mr. Eisenhower and the Old Guard wing of his political party are in direct conflict on a major issue.

Republican leaders in Congress, some of whom doubtless privately disagree with a number of President Eisenhower's views, are in a position where they must try to whip as many balky party members into line as they can, even though they personally may not believe in the measures they are seeking to have adopted.

It's virtually certain that G.O.P. members in both the House and the Senate will break away from their party leadership and that the President can be upheld only if many Democrats vote his way.

To understand all the aspects to the strange political situation existing today in Washington, it first must be realized that Eisenhower's position on a good many issues is opposed to the traditional stand of the Republican party.

Both Democrats and Republicans, however, recognize that Ike is tremendously popular with the rank and file of the voters and that the support of his policies probably will be the big issue on which next year's battle for control of Congress will be fought.

Democratic strategists suspect that it may be to their advantage if they can show that the votes of their party members saved the day for a Republican President on many vitaly important questions.

That is an extraordinary political situation, but the fact is that many Democrats in the past have supported the very principles that form the basis for the Eisenhower program.

It will be very interesting to watch for any shifts in Democratic strategy, for they could spell defeat for the President on several major issues.

What some Democrats are trying to
advantage or disadvantage to rally behind a Republican and rescue him from defeat by his own party. It's a rather tricky question.

Herter Finds Job for Dever's Secretary

Governor Herter made an unusual gesture last week, when he created a new job for Louis Herter, formerly publicity secretary to ex-Governor Dever, after the position held by Herter had been wiped out by the House ways and means committee.

Herter explained that he was upholding a tradition that incoming Governors protect the jobs in which preceding Governors had placed the members of their secretarial staffs before leaving the State House.

His action drew no commendation from Democratic politicians, but it nevertheless indicated why Mr. Herter is highly regarded by many persons outside the Republican party.

In this instance, he could have simply disregarded the action of the powerful Republican-controlled House ways and means committee and adopted the attitude that, after all, he wasn't firing Herter and the action was out of his hands.

But Governor Herter doesn't do things that way. He considered the action contrary to gubernatorial custom and courtesy, and he stepped in to set up another job for a man who had worked industriously to prevent his election.

Even the most partisan Republicans must be disgusted with the motives which caused State Senators Daniel F. O'Brien, Cambridge Democrat, and Newland H. Holmes, Weymouth Republican, to sponsor a bill which would wipe out the East Cambridge district court and the judicial posts held by Judge Edward J. Dever, brother of ex-Governor
Dever, and Judge John Henry Morris, Dever's former legal adviser and ghost writer.

O'Brien and Holmes are acting out of personal bitterness and spite over the appointment of Morris to the bench. When they voted for the creation of the judgeship now held by Morris, O'Brien and Holmes apparently did so with the understanding that the post would go to ex-Representative Andrew P. Dillon of Cambridge.

Dever evidently would have named Dillon to the bench, if he had been reelected to a third term. But when he was defeated by Governor Herter and was suddenly confronted with the need for finding jobs for the members of his secretarial staff, he by-passed Dillon, placed him on the Mystic River Bridge Authority and appointed Morris to the East Cambridge court.

O'Brien and Holmes have not challenged the judicial qualities of Morris, and apparently they are not an issue in the controversy.

The legislative bill, if enacted, would allow Governor Herter to appoint two new judges and two new court clerks.

But it would be a sorry state of affairs, if the Legislature is going to abolish an entire court and set up a new one, every time a couple of legislators are dissatisfied with some judicial appointment.

And it always has been our impression that a new judgeship was created to meet a public need, not to take care of some ex-legislator in need of a job.

The ironic aspect to the situation is that the bill, even if adopted, would accomplish nothing from the standpoint of O'Brien and Holmes except to satisfy their own vindictiveness. Governor Herter certainly wouldn't pick ex-Representative Dillon for one of the posts.

Rubin Parham admitted in a Memphis court that he had made his living for the past three years by stealing automobile hub caps and selling them for 25 cents each. At least he was a specialist in his profession.

NO WONDER HOSPITAL CARE COSTS so much now-days, says Newton-Wellesley Hospital President Charles M.
Culter as he points to price tag of $1,850 on a late model iron lung. Such equipment is only used infrequently in the hospital today, yet must be ready for instant service should a patient be admitted with respiratory failure. Nurse Rita Moran, of the hospital staff looks on. The respirator formed part of an exhibit during Open House held at the hospital during National Hospital Week.

Letters

Display of Cruelty
Editor, Newton Graphic:
Crystal Lake is a magnet to boys who swim, fish, catch bulfrogs and, more recently, row around in boats. Yesterday I spotted two of these mariners, one of them armed with a long pole upon the end of which was attached a sharp nail or spike.
The general idea was to harpoon the turtles.

Incensed at this display of cruelty, the like of which one can read nowadays in Russia and the communistic slave camps, I ordered them away.

Naturally, they replied in the manner one learns to expect from these arrogant and bad-mannered teenagers. I was told the turtles were public property.
However, they went!

Newton Rotary Hears Talk by Archeologist

Study of "radio carbon dating" gives us a fairly accurate gauge as to the length of man's existence on the Earth and on this continent, Dr. Douglas S. Byers, director of the Robert S. Peabody Foundation for Archaeology at Phillips Academy of Andover, told the Newton Rotary Club recently at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Stating that the study of "carbon 14" and the subsequent discoveries of how it can be tied up to a historical time table were important milestones in our study of life on this continent thousands of years ago. Doctor Byers indicated that a pair of sandals found in Oregon, which may be about 9500 years old, is the oldest known object made by man on this continent.

Doctor Byers traced the coming and going of the ice age and its corresponding changes on human life on our continent. Studies indicate that many changes which were centuries in coming, moved very slowly, but that the advance of man's progress is at a much more rapid pace today.

A new member of the club, Edward J. Oles, formerly of Hartford, Conn., was welcomed by Frederick A. Hawkins, Immediate past president.

Announcement was made by Dr. Theodore Clark in regard to the annual "clean up" day at Camp Frank A. Day, Newton
Y.M.C.A. residence camp, by Newton Rotarians. Rotarians will spend Saturday at the Y.M.
C.A. camp in a day of "out-

Seek Surplus Funds to Hold Down Tax Rate

Action is expected by the Newton Board of Aldermen Monday night on a request by the Board of Assessors to use $800,000 of the city's surplus funds to prevent another rise in the tax rate.

John D. Wright, chairman of the assessors, predicted that use of the $800,000 would "at least" keep the rate at last year's figure of $25.80. He said a sufficient surplus balance would be left despite the appropriation, which represents about $3 on the tax rate.

Action on the request is expected at Monday's meeting, since the tax rate will probably be set sometime in June. Incomplete figures on the city's surplus set the total at more than $1,300,000.

Mr. Wright pointed out that a second factor which will prevent a tax boost is an invaluation as the result of new construction, of $6,000,000 in real estate

Newton Druggists Hold Election

Newton Druggists Association met May 13 at the home of Wilfred Chagnon, president of the Association, 51 Vernon street, Newton. Members attending besides Mr. Chagnon were: Herman Adelson, Carl H. Alvord, Bernard Dokton, Edward Dooley, Fred Fox, Samuel Gerson, William Golovoy, Arthur Katz, Philip Levine, John McCarthy, Irving T. Polen, Joseph Selden, Robert Slotnick, Morris Snyder and George Waters.

Elections were held, and the unanimous choice for president was Mr. Polen and for treasurer, Mr. Chagnon. Carl Alvord was appointed secretary, and the following directors were elected to represent the area in which their drug business is located:

Bernard Dokton, Newtonville; Fred Fox, Nonantum; Samuel Gerson, Newton Corner; Joseph Selden, Newton Highlands; Morris Snyder, Newton Centre; George Waters, West Newton and Auburndale.

A lively discussion took place regarding proposed legislation with narcotics, SEET ET ETETT which would classify barbiturates with narcotics. The Association went on record as opposing this bill. It would seriously hamper the doctor, patient and druggist and fail to limit the infrequent excessive use of these drugs.

The Association set up three annual partial scholarships for any qualifying Newton student to any Pharmacy College of his or her choice. High school graduates interested in this scholarship should apply to their local druggist or to any of the members of the Association who will refer all applications to the scholarship committee composed of Carl H. Alvord and Joseph Selden.

Club Activities of Newton

Well Known Illustrator and Writer At Hunnewell Club Next Thursday

Tasha Tudor, the well-known illustrator and writer of children's books is coming to the Hunnewell Club at 84 Eldredge st., Newton, on Thursday, June 4. At 2:00 p.m. she will give one of her popular illustrated talks on "How to Have a Career Yet Raise a Family at the Same Time." As she has a husband and 4 children yet manages successfully to write, lecture, and create artistic illustrations for books, she seems well qualified to speak on this subject.

For those acquainted with her unusual programs there is the inducement of listening to many experiences woven around the family life at their old Colonial farmhouse in Contoocook, New Hampshire. She tells amusing incidents about their many wild and domestic pets which consist of 3 tame crows, 2 chipmunks, geese, 5 canaries, 4 love birds, a dog, and 4 cows. For children and Mothers who have not yet heard her type of entertainment there is a new and entirely different experience in store.

Tasha Tudor draws animated pictures at an easel while she talks. These Kate Greenaway style sketches illustrate characters from her books and usually she selects some child from the audience to act as a model as well. Then she shows some of her vast collection of antique dolls. These dolls are part of an authentic old dollhouse whose miniature rooms are furnished in mid-19th century settings. All details such as furniture, china, rugs, and other accessories are sized to scale. In addition, certain members of her marionette family will meet the audience. These puppets have appeared on television in performances of "Hansel and Gretel" and "Red Riding Hood." There is much in her material to capture children's interest and an underlying humor that appeals to adults.

Refreshments will follow this program, at which time the audience will have the opportunity to view the doll exhibit and other items such as were on display at Jordan Marsh Co. recently.

Mrs. Leonard Abbot is in

Temple Emanuel Spring Dance

The Sisterhood and Brotherhood of Temple Shalom of Newton have announced final plans for their joint spring dance to be held June 6, at Temple Emanuel Auditorium from 8 p.m. until midnight. An added feature for the evening will be excerpts from the Sisterhood-Brotherhood show "Live a Little" which was presented last month. Gene Dennis and his Orchestra will provide the music, and an Hors D'oeuvres Buffet and Dessert will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Taylor are chairmen of the affair and their committee is as follows: Mr. Frank Cottle and Mr. Irving Mann, tickets; Mrs. Zalmon Walack, decorations; Mrs. David Cooper, publicity; Mrs. Elliot Rosenberg and Mr. Frank Kaplan, entertainment; Mr. Elliot Rosenberg, arrangements; and Mrs. Milton Rosenthal, welcoming.

"Some people are always surprised at how well the neighbors' kids turn out."—Linda Lombard.

charge of the entire program and is also chairman of the Ticket Committee. Her assistants are: Mrs. Thaddeus Krush, Mrs. Robert Russell, Mrs. Charles Diman, Mrs. John Wulff, and Mrs. Fairman Cowan. Posters for the event will be handled by Mrs. Richard Lovell, Mrs. Hugh Tomb, and Mrs. Robert Fowle. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Henry Jones, Mrs. William Preston, Mrs. K. Kenneth Gleason, Mrs. R. Richard Foley, Mrs. Duncan Edmonds, Mrs. Warren Lothrop, Mrs. Francis Ingersoll, and Mrs. Edward Storer. Mrs. John Roy and Mrs. Harold Berman will arrange the decorations.

As this afternoon of entertainment is open to the public tickets will be sold at the door—$1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children, plus tax. The Hunnewell Club seating capacity allows the sale of only 300 tickets and as Tasha Tudor's programs insure capacity audiences, those wishing to have their tickets in advance may call Mrs. Leonard Abbot at LAS 7-7228 or Mrs. Thaddeus Krush at DES 2-9096.

Carr School PTA Elects Officers

New officers of the Carr School P.T.A. of Newtonville, headed by John Ford as president, were elected last Thursday night as follows: Mrs. Albert Leone, vice president; Mrs. George McManus, executive secretary; Mrs. Arthur Dexter, corresponding and recording secretary; and Leon Huston, treasurer.

Entertainment for the evening, introduced by Mrs. Arnold Black, fourth grade teacher, included the following selections by the school orchestra under the direction of Miss Joy Wingett: "Pomp and Splendor," by A. T. Parker, instrumental teacher in the Newton Public Schools; "Waltz Serenade," "Music Box," "Camptown Races" by Stephen Foster, arranged by Donald March, supervisor of instrumental music in Newton public schools and "Anniversary March" by A. T. Parker.

Mrs. Black also presented James Remley, supervisor of music education in the Newton schools, who conducted a chorus of fourth, fifth, and sixth grade boys who sang a group of eight songs.

William R. O'Connell, president, greeted the parents and guests and presented an orchid to Mrs. Winslow C. Auryansen, retiring corresponding secretary. Mrs. Auryansen has served the Carr School P.T.A. for six years while her daughter has been a pupil at the school.

"Extend the Frontiers of the Spirit" Church Women Are Told

"The greatest thing that we as Christian women can do is to extend the frontiers of the spirit," said Mrs. Robert Linton speaking before the May Fellowship Day and Annual Meeting of the Newton Council of Church Women held in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Waban, on May 11. Relating her recent experience in Berlin, Mrs. Linton told of meeting the Protestant "Sisters" whose work is supported partially by Newton church women. In the refugee barracks, which Mrs. Linton said were indicative of "the price some people were willing to pay for freedom," she met the recipients of the food, clothes, and money that have been sent by the church women's organizations. Urging continued aid, both spiritual and material, Mrs. Linton stated that the seeds of fellowship sown in Berlin are bearing fruit as the Christians there increasingly become aware that they are not alone in the battle of faith.

At the business meeting preceding the program, Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, president of the Council, called for annual reports from the officers and committee chairman. It was voted by the membership, comprised of delegates from twenty-four churches of six denominations, to contribute to the following organizations: United Church Women of Massachusetts, Church World Service and Berlin Orphanage, American Relief for Korea, the Massachusetts Council of Churches, the Protestant Guild for the Blind, the New England Harvester (a station wagon equipped with books, organ, projector, and sports apparatus to be used in migrant labor camps), Monks Protestant chapel in Boston City Hospital, and Japan International Christian University.

The nominating committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Marshall Stone, submitted the following slate of officers, who were elected to serve for 1953-1954: Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, president; Mrs. Hugh L. Robinson, vice-president; Miss Ethel Woodberry, secretary - treasurer; Mrs. Marshall Stone, chairman of the Nominating Committee; and Mrs. Raymond Dudley, Auburndale Congregationalist; Mrs. Thomas Fox, Newton Methodist; Mrs. Townsend Cushman, Trinity Episcopal; Mrs. Herbert Gezork, Newton Centre Baptist; and Miss Ethel Woodberry, Second Congregationalist, as members of the committee.

Pike-

At night, car lights do not drop fast enough to pick out the narrowing road, and often cars three abreast find themselves hurtling toward a two-lane road.

A pedestrian cross-walk and a bus stop are also just over the crest of the hill. To further confuse the traffic, there is a cross-over for cars cut through the grass dividing lane in the center of the road.

Mrs. Vignoles has seen a variety of accidents caused by the different features of the road, all located at one spot. She has lost track of the number of times she and her husband have heard the scream of brakes followed by a dull thud or a crash of metal, and have run to the street to aid the accident victims.

The kinds of accidents include cars forced into a concrete "safety" island by the narrowing roadway, pedestrians walking from in front of a halted bus into traffic, one car stopping for a pedestrian and another passing by to strike the person on foot, cars crossing the center strip and struck from the rear, and many others.

There have even been cases where the bus has stopped too far out in the street and cars have passed on the right-hand side as passengers were alighting.

Directly opposite Mrs. Vignoles' home is a little white house owned by friends. "I don't dare walk across the turnpike to visit them," states Mrs. Vignoles. "Getting across is only for young people who can run for their lives."

Although both sides of the turnpike at that point are Upper Falls, her side of the street might as well be Waban. Rather than cross the "pike," persons living on the Waban side do their shopping in Waban square, even though the distance is longer.

"This situation is too old to cure, but we can alleviate it," Mrs. Vignoles believes. She thinks five steps are necessary to make the hill less dangerous: blocking the car crossover, building a pedestrian overpass, changing the bus stop, lowering the speed limit, and erecting a noticeable traffic light where the cut-off narrows the road from three to two lanes.

Wellesley that is equally as bad," she declares. "There must be a dozen other places in Newton."

Records of the Traffic Division at Newton Police Headquarters lend support to Mrs. Vignoles' contention that the turnpike is a dangerous place. From the beginning of 1948 to date, there have been 26 deaths caused by cars within the city limits; 10 of these have been on the Worcester turnpike.

In 1950, one person was killed on the hill near Mrs. Vignoles' home. Last year, two were killed in separate accidents. In 1952 and 1953, 13 drivers, passengers and pedestrians were injured.

"It is axiomatic," says Mrs. Vignoles, apprehensively listening to discussions over the location of the new toll road, "that you do not put a highway through well-developed territory."

She had to go no further than her own front door to find support for that statement.

Clothing collected by the Federation is used to aid needy children and families in Korea, in war-depleted countries of Europe and the Middle East, and in disadvantaged rural areas of the United States.

More than five million Korean men, women and children are homeless refugees in their own country. At the request of the United States Government authorities, the Save the Children Federation continues to send warm clothing and shoes to these victims of Communist aggression.

In many counties of Europe the scars of war have not yet healed. Save the Children Federation representatives in Europe report that clothing needs are particularly acute in many areas of Italy, and in Greece, where villagers who fled from Communist aggression have returned to their homes only to find them in ruins.

In the United States clothing is distributed in low-income rural areas of eight Southern and Mid-western States and on the Navajo and Papago Indian Reservations. If it were not for the Bundle Day collections, thousands of these rural children would not be able to attend school because of the lack of adequate clothing.

Wearable clothing of all types, in babies', children's and adult sizes; blankets, sheets and adult bedding; and low-heeled shoes are especially needed.

A large number of shipping bags have been sent from the Federation, and leaflets have been given to children to take home during the week, stating the purpose of the drive and asking the cooperation of parents.

Miss Jo Michaelis was Mistress of ceremonies, introducing the various guests and Mayor Theo. R. Lockwood also spoke to the assemblage.

General Whitney, in his remarks, noted that in all wars, participated in by our country, the biggest percentage of army and navy personnel were boys under twenty one years of age. He also stated that the permanent peace which our government is trying to attain, will only be accomplished when all people accept God and pray for such peace.

Mayor Lockwood, in addressing the audience, claimed that Newton's youth had done much in all wars which has brought much credit to our city's record.

The ceremony closed with prayers by the clergy, Taps by Francis B. Daly, a GI of World War II and the National Anthem by the High School Band.

Tax Rate-

A big surplus is a big temptation to spend unnecessarily;

A low surplus tends to keep the government more on its toes since it makes the tax rates from year to year more sensitive to changes in governmental conditions, and governmental constituents react strongly to tax rate changes.

Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., Association Executive Director stated that in his opinion the present rate of $45.80 is definitely too high under all the circumstances. "45.80 should be a peak in Newton tax rates, not a plateau for new expenses," he said.

NEWTON NUTRITION CENTER

Baby usually gets first consideration in regard to food. The preschooler is often recognized as a feeding problem and his parents seek advice. But the teenage group is too often ignored as far as food needs are concerned.

Studies of the food habits in communities and in schools have repeatedly shown that the girls generally have poorer diets than the boys. The adolescent girl has the lowest rating of all youth groups! And we nutritionists are not entirely blameless in this state of affairs. Too often we become so involved in helping parents with the food problems of the young child that we forget to tell parents about the food needs of their adolescent children. Of course there are other reasons.

As girls reach their teens, they often lack the hearty appetites characteristic of their brothers. Many try to become slim by reducing diets of their own making (and their ideas of the ideal figure are often exaggerated). They may skip breakfast, eat skimpy lunches, or omit all of such valuable foods as potatoes, bread, and even milk. Yet they often offset this "dieting" by joining the crowd at the soda fountain or snack bar after school.

Good nutrition for girls in their teens is especially important because they are the future home makers and mothers. The teens is a time when they should be building sound health and the reserves to see them successfully through motherhood. They need to know how and why to select the right foods for themselves, and later for their husbands and children. They need to appreciate that a good diet is their most important "beauty aid."

Some of the teen-age girls really do need help in keeping their weight within bounds. They need to learn how to select meals that provide the food essentials and still be able to "snack" with their friends after school. Parents, and especially mothers, can help by encouraging the girl select fruit for dessert, and by avoiding too frequent temptation with rich desserts.

Here briefly is a meal plan that will allow the teen-age girl to snack between and still get all the essential foods:

BREAKFAST

Citrus fruit or juice
Whole grain or enriched cereal or bread
Butter or margarine Egg—Milk

LUNCH

Vegetable, 1/2 cup serving with emphasis on dark green or yellow Whole grain or enriched bread with butter or margarine
Fruit—Milk

DINNER

Meat, fish, poultry or alternate Potato—Vegetable, 1 or 2 or salad
Whole grain or enriched bread with butter or margarine
Fruit or dessert like custard, simple pudding—Milk

Do You Know Massachusetts?

(Compiled by State Planning Board)

DO YOU KNOW THAT ... the first 200 Massachusetts municipalities reporting their property tax rates for 1953 show an average rate of $48.18 per 1,000 valuation, compared with $48.32 last year, the first decrease in the average since 1944, as reported by the Dept. of Corporations and Taxation ... Property valuation in the 200 places increased 3.7% ... It has been estimated that the more generous distribution, and estimates of rate funds to be distributed, to the municipalities amount to a saving of about $1.50 in the average tax rate ... The first graded silk lines produced in America were made in Canton about 1821 ... Massachusetts at the close of 1951 had 2,024 miles of state highway and 22,103 miles of municipally owned roads and streets. Of the 22,103 miles of local roads, a fifth more than enough to circle the world at this latitude, 15,810 were rural and 6,293 were urban, as reported by the Dept. of Public Works ... Between March 1947 and March 1953 the number of people employed in the electrical machinery industries in Massachusetts increased by 20,900, in miscellaneous small classifications of industry 10,900, in women's, misses' and children's clothing production 8,100, miscellaneous fabricated metals 4,300, furniture and fixtures 3,100, as shown by the records of the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics ... Ashby recently established a planning board under the improved method of municipal planning.

Plan Fifth Annual Conservat'n Camp

Any group or individual planning to send a boy to any one of this year's four sessions of the fifth annual Massachusetts sportsmen's Junior Conservation Camp is advised to make application in the near future.

Paul A. White, secretary of Wildlife Conservation Incorporated, which is one of the camp sponsors together with the Massachusetts Department of Conservation and the organization sportsmen of the state, advises that reservations for the first session opening July 5 are filling up fast and applications even for the later sessions already are being received.

Absolute deadline for any camp session application is June 15.

Camp sessions this year run from July 5-18; July 19-Aug. 1; Aug. 2-15; and Aug. 16-29. Each session is limited to a total of 5 boys.

Under the guidance of various state and federal experts in their field the boys are taught the fundamentals of good conservation, ranging from fly and bait casting and safe gun handling to outdoor camping, cookery, watermanship, map reading, soil and forest conservation and fish and game identification.

The instruction includes lectures, movies and field trips. No special equipment is required, and the boys need bring only serviceable outdoor clothing, bedding, fishing rods, and athletic equipment. No guns are allowed in camp save those furnished by the shooting instructors.

For complete details write to Paul A. White, Secretary, Wildlife Conservation Incorporated, 10 Spruce street, Boston.

New Haven Road Opens New Station

The newly opened New Haven route 128 Station is now a stop for 67 trains, including all Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Washington trains, officials of the New Haven Railroad announced this week.

This new station spells added convenience for commuters to Boston or rail travelers to any city along the famed New Haven shoreline route. By boarding the New Haven at Route 128 Station, travelers avoid traffic congestion and parking problems, the railroad claims.

The new Route 128 Station also cuts off travel to and from New York, Philadelphia and Washington, as well as intermediate cities. As proof of this, the railroad cites an example: a traveler boarding the Herchants Limited at Route 128 Station, arrives in New York just three hours and forty-three minutes later. And, it saves the travel time of driving all the way into downtown Boston or Back Bay to board the train.

Thanks Board Of Aldermen For Action

Edward J. Pease, president of the Newton Corner Improvement Association, said in an interview yesterday that he wanted to express through the columns of the Newton Graphic the appreciation of the Newton Improvement Association to the Board of Aldermen for their action at Monday night's meeting in making funds available to make necessary changes in the auditorium of the Underwood School so that it can be used as a gymnasium in bad weather.

Mr. Pease said that he knew that parents who have children attending the Underwood School, as well as the children themselves, will greatly appreciate these much needed facilities.

Two New Fire Stations Asked By Fire Chief

The replacement of fire stations in Newton Centre and Newton Highlands was recommended by Fire Chief John E. Corcoran recently in his annual report to the mayor.

Chief Corcoran asked for the construction of a modern two-story four-door brick building to replace Engine 3 in Newton Centre, and a new two-door building to replace Ladder 2 in Newton Highlands.

The chief also recommended the erection of a hose tower no higher than 35 feet at the rear of Station 5 in Auburndale, and expanding the firefighting force by four men.

Other apparatus requested in the report included a 750 and a 1000 gallon-per-minute pumper; a rescue truck; an 85-foot aerial ladder, provided the Newton Centre station is built; 10 new fire alarm boxes; and a radio system separate from the present police radio.
